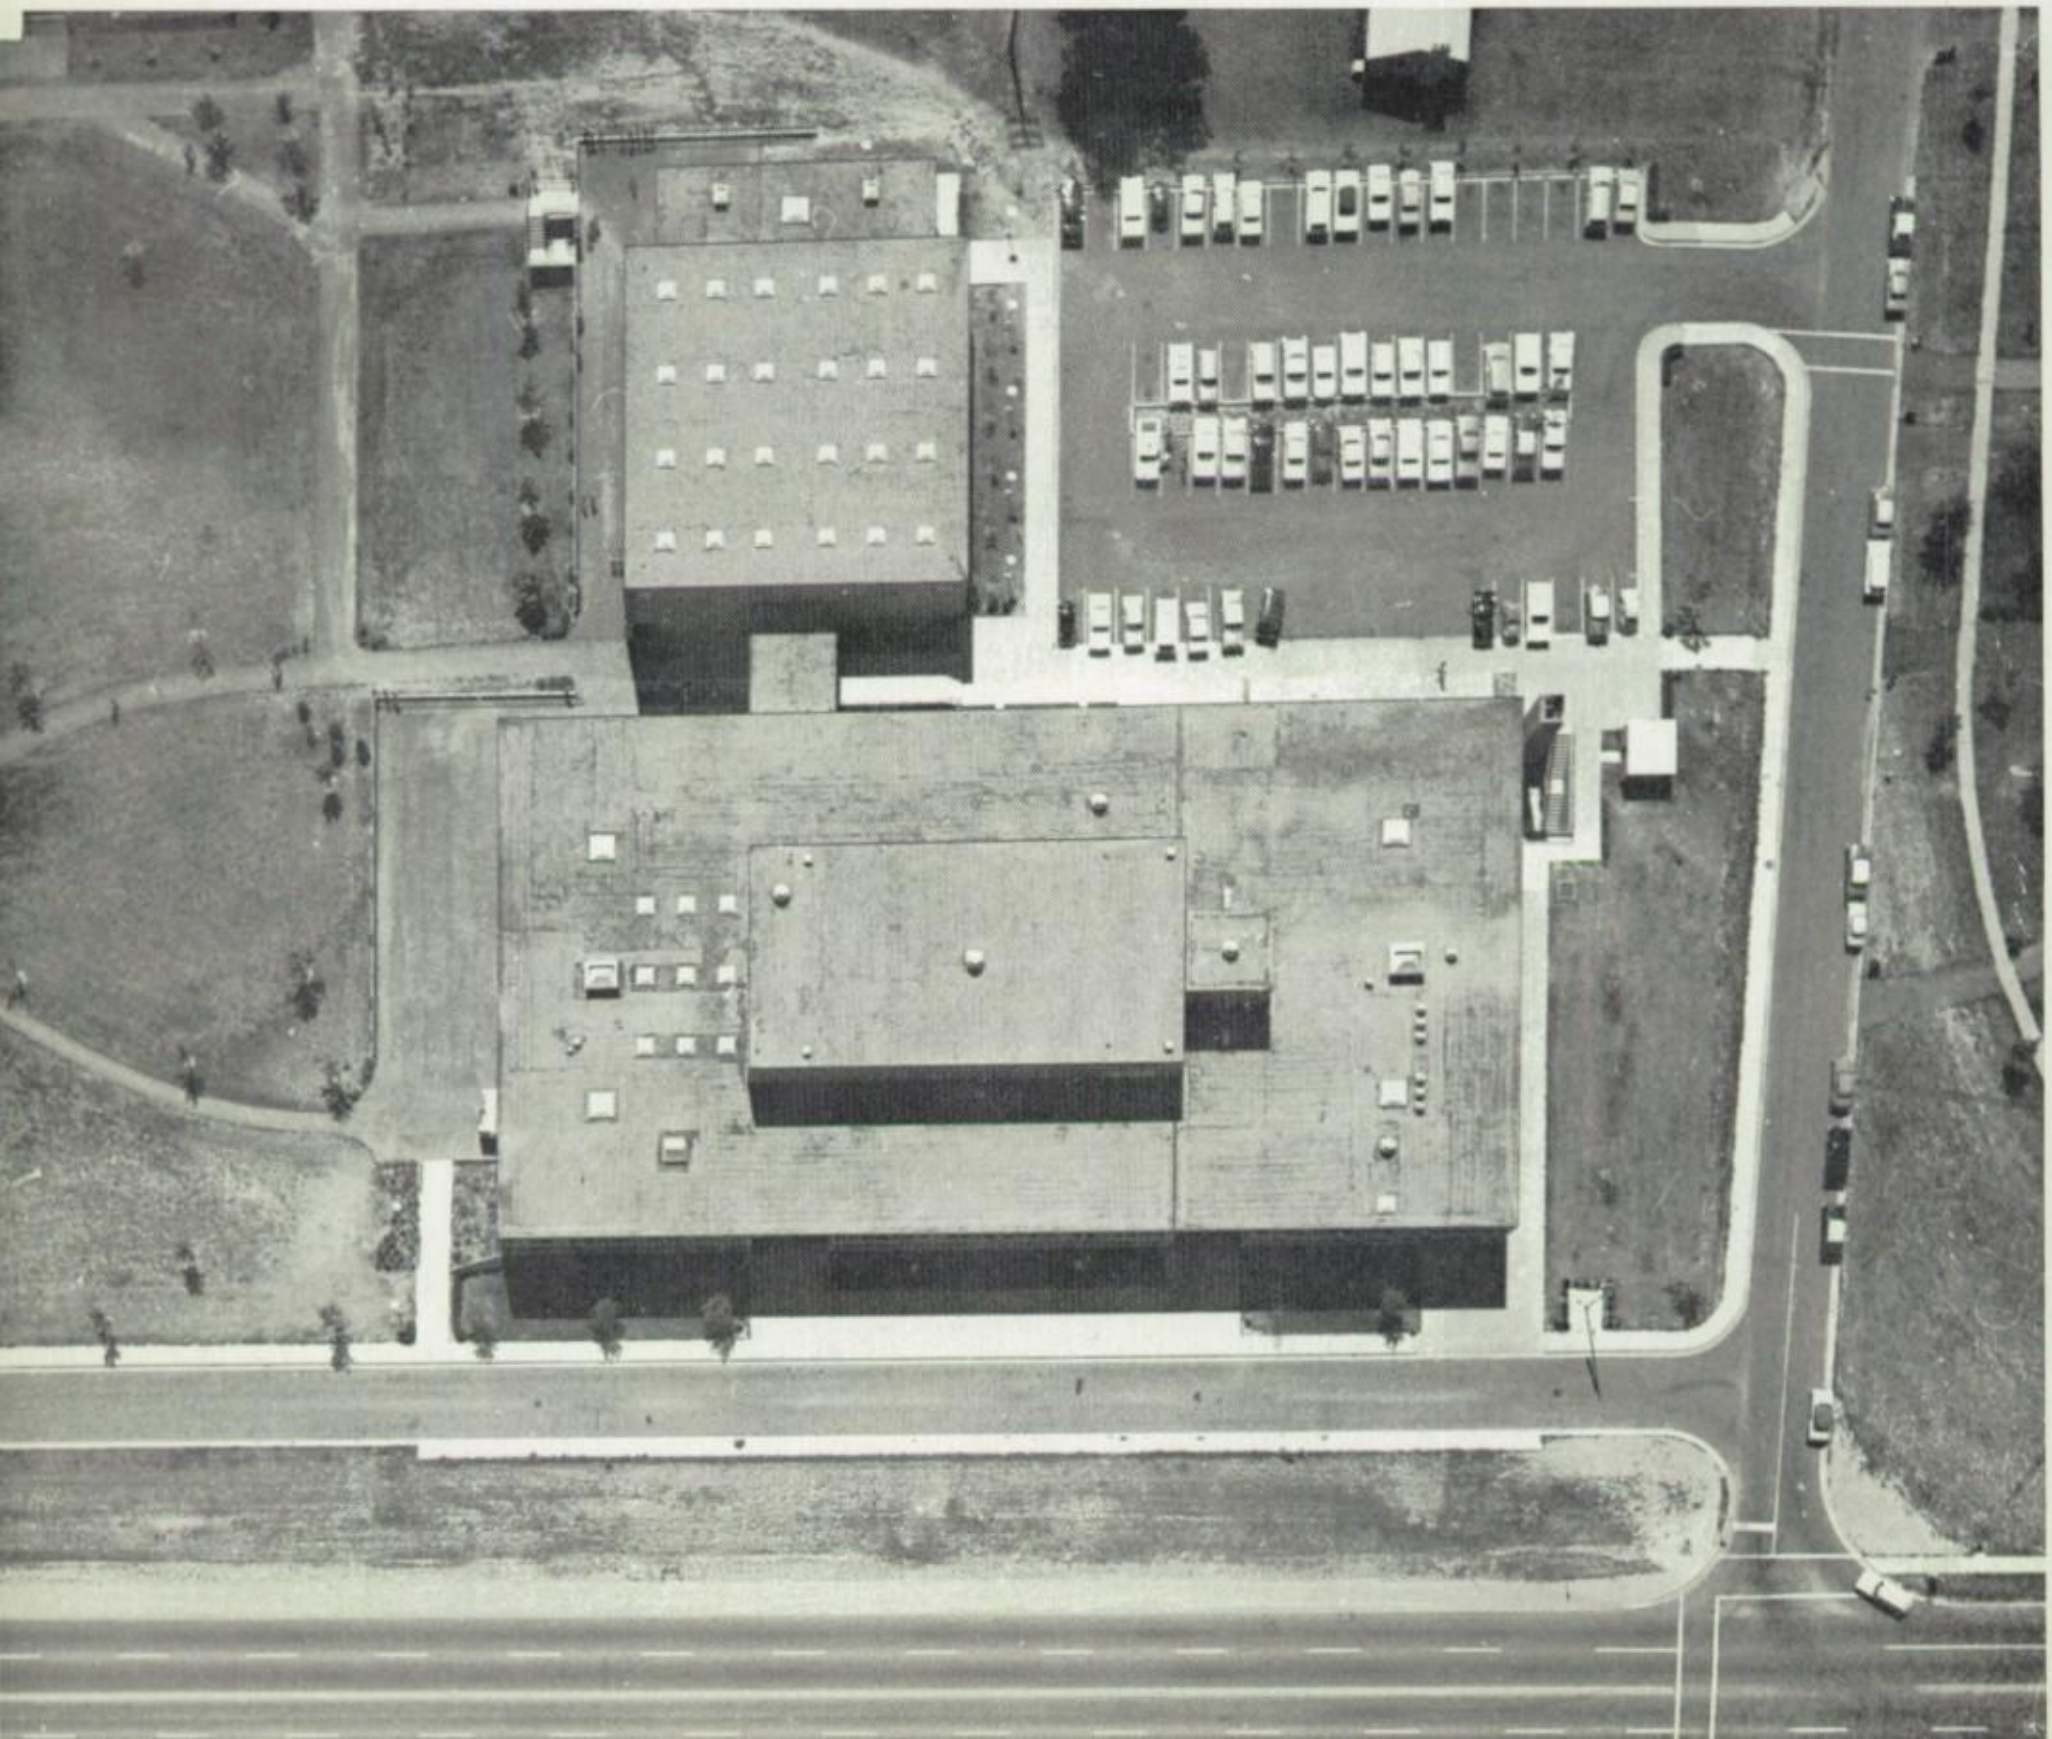
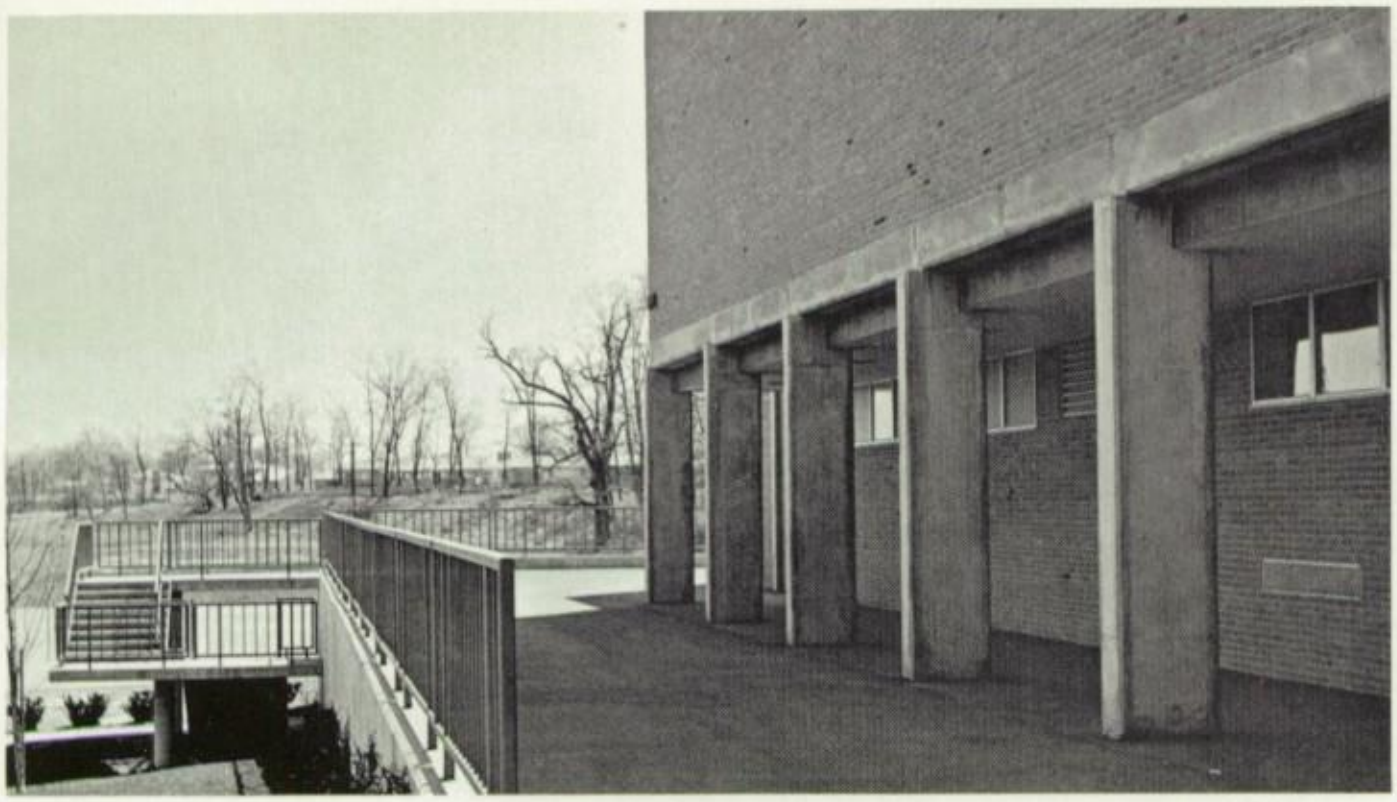
WALNUT RIDGE HIGH SCHOOL

4841 East Livingston Avenue
Columbus, Ohio
Volume V

Walnut Ridge

Is. . .





A Building

Bricks, mortar, and glass.
These are the material things of which a building is made.
But Walnut Ridge is more than just a building.
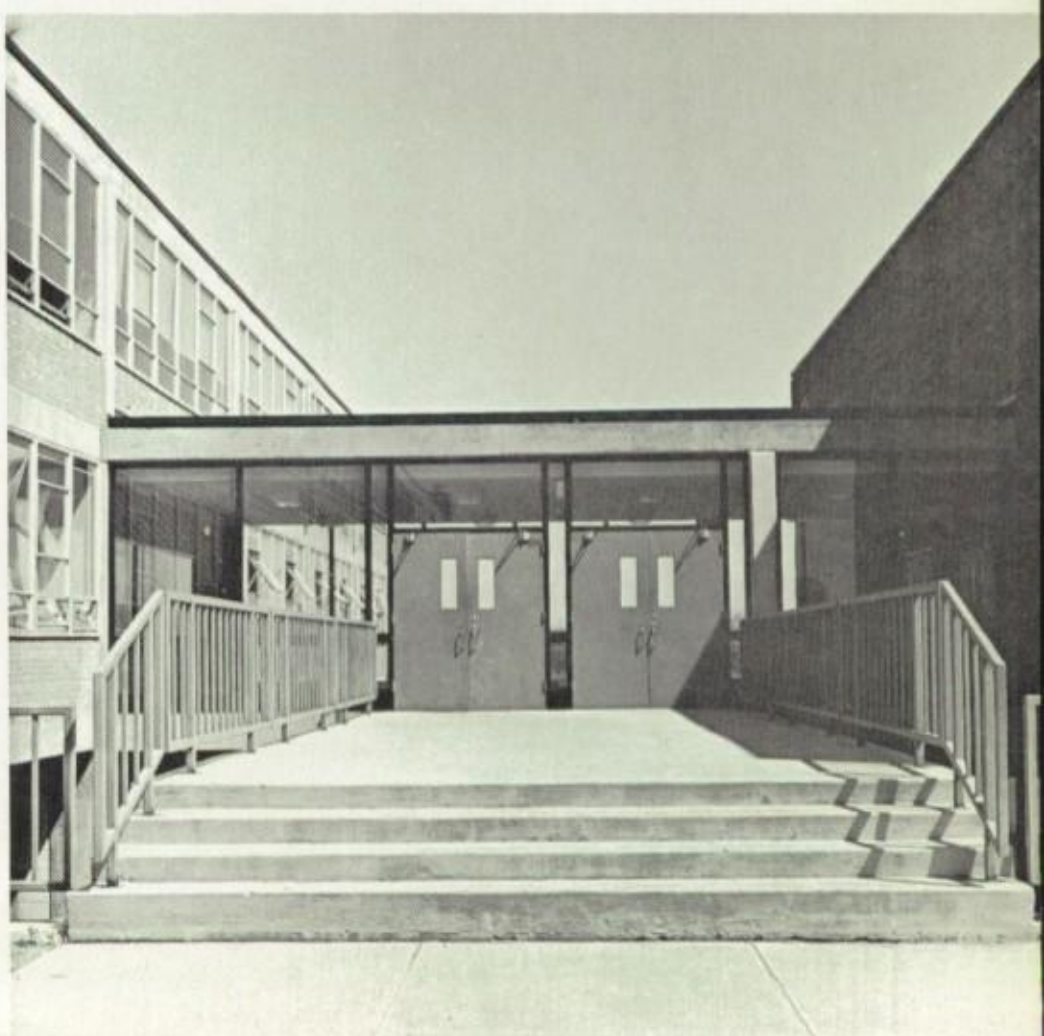
It is more than
hallways and classrooms,
more than a gymnasium, an auditorium.
It is a living, pulsating body.
Walnut Ridge is . . .



People. . .

Each weekday morning
the school comes alive
with the sounds of footsteps and laughter.
The building fills with people —
young, eager, and full of life.
It is then that a school becomes more than a building.
It takes on a personality of many different goals and ideals.
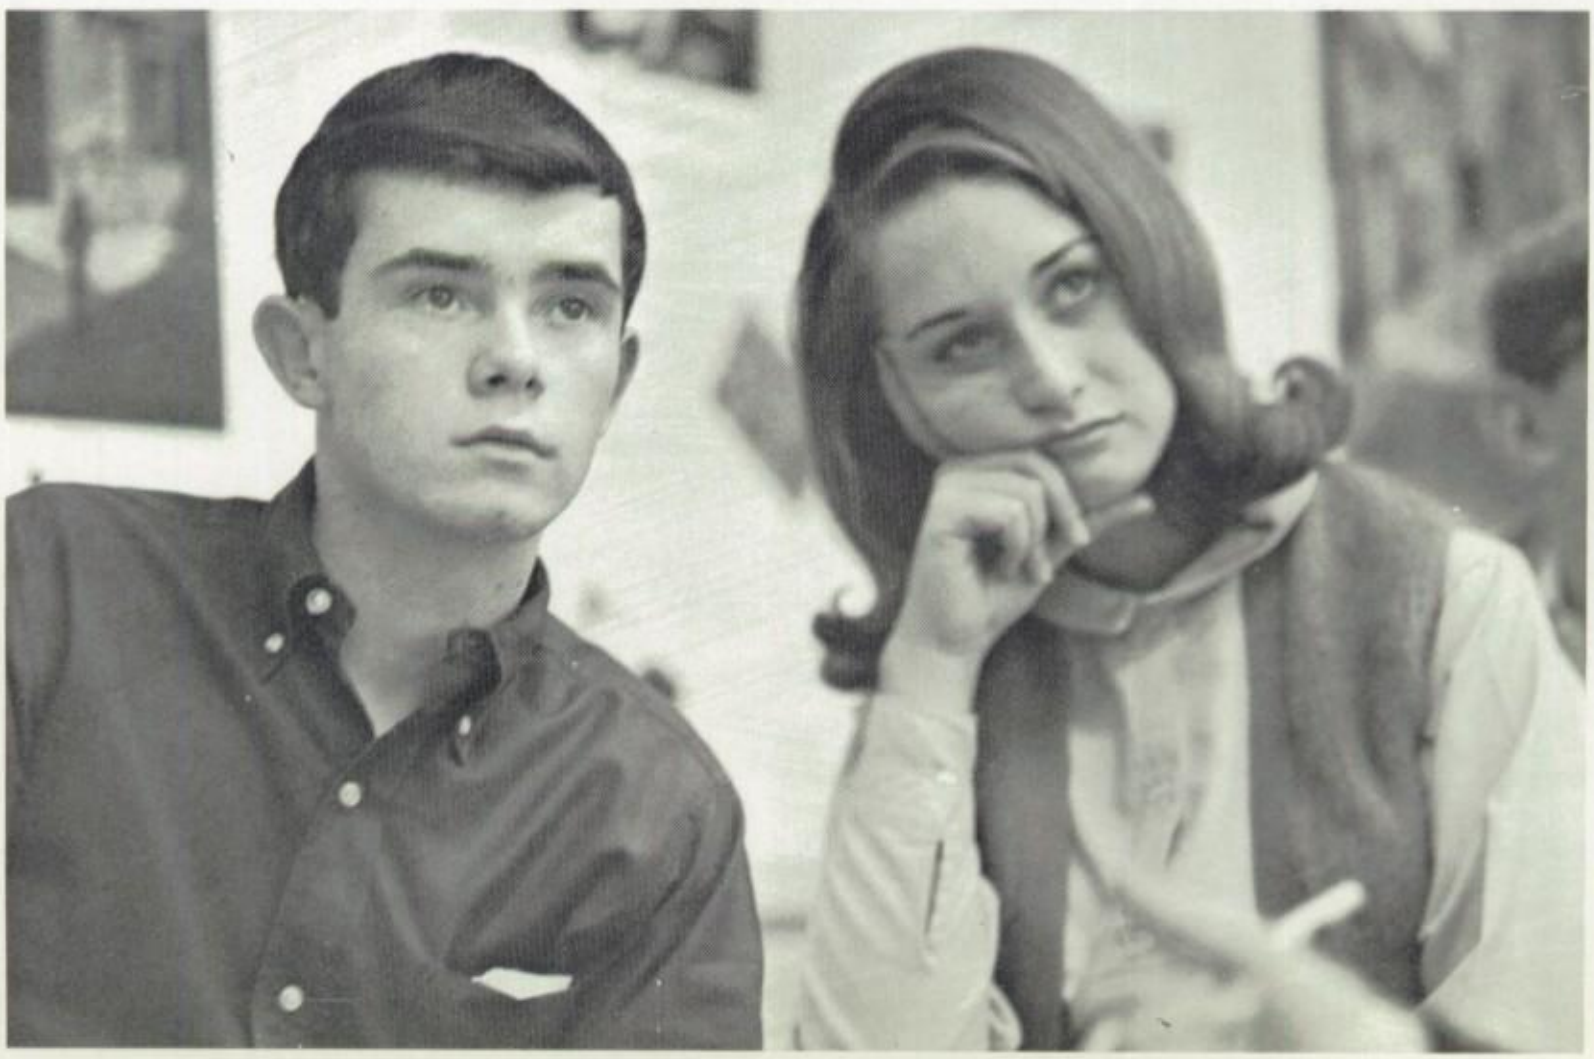
These aims and dreams
make up the school.
But Walnut Ridge is even more.
Walnut Ridge is . . .



Walnut Ridge Is . . .

Work (wurk), n as work, werc, weorc.
1. Exertion of strength or faculties to accomplish something; toil; labor . . .

That is what work means according to Webster.
But work takes on greater meaning at Walnut Ridge.
Here it often stems from pride and pure eagerness to learn.
Walnut Ridge has high scholastic standards and it takes pride in the fine showing of its pupils in scholastic competitions.
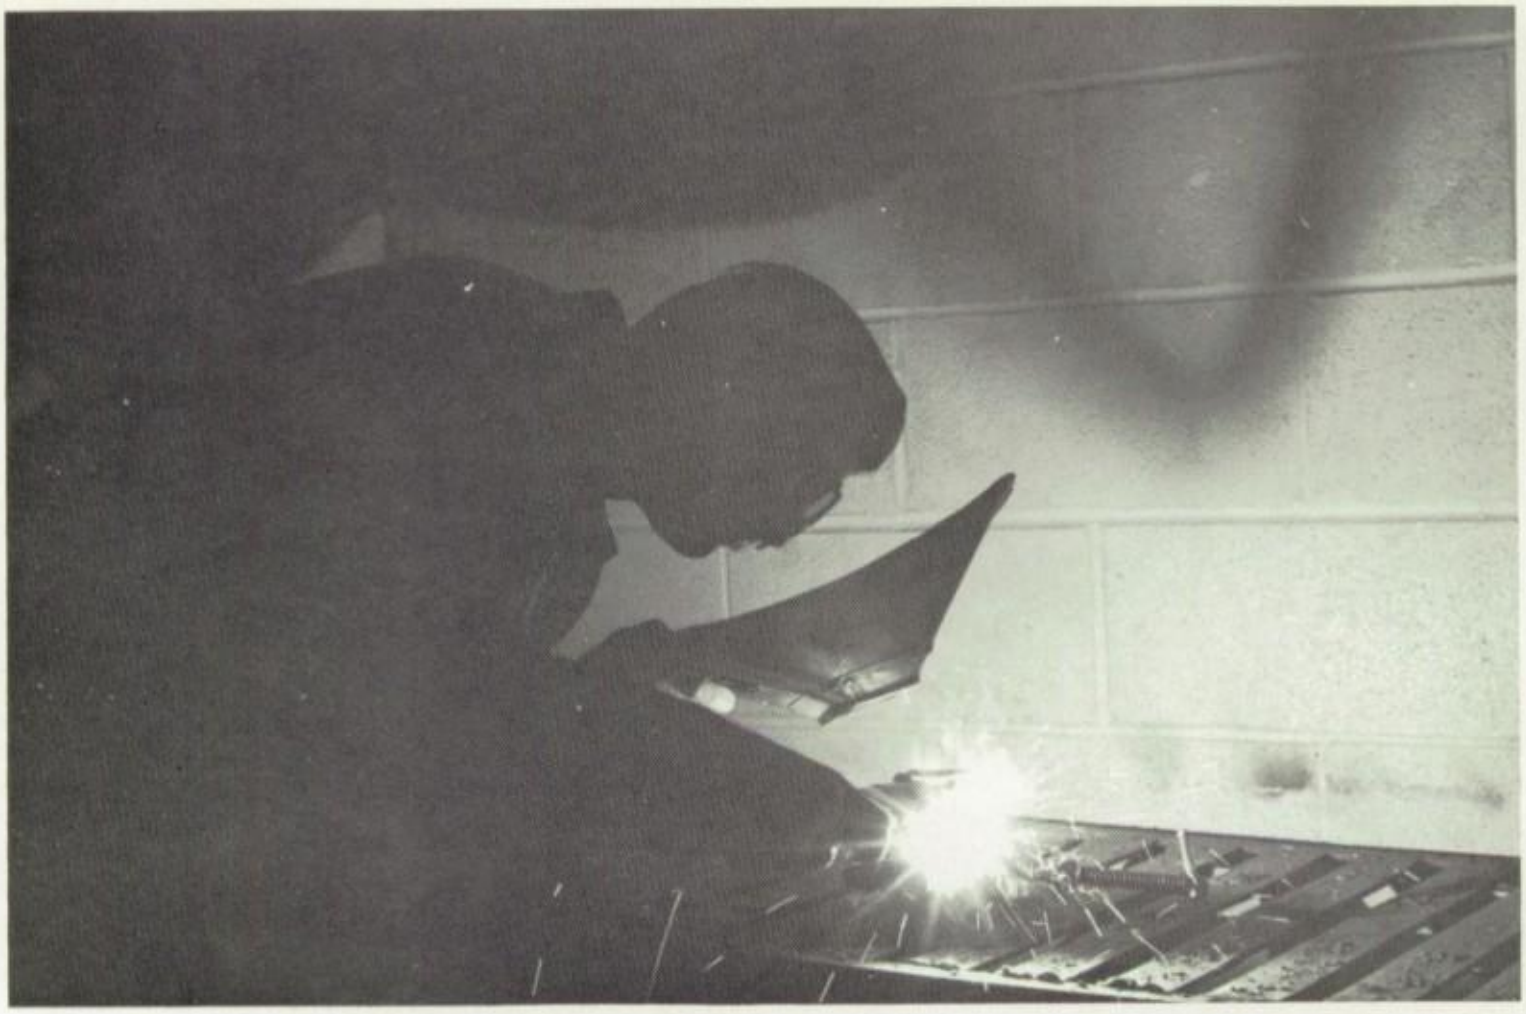
But hard work is balanced, as well.
For Walnut Ridge also is . . .



Work. . .

Spirit And Friendship

The roar of a crowd, the crash of the cymbal, the cry of a cheerleader, the laughs of good friends, the quiet of a shared moment: These are the sounds of spirit and friendship at Walnut Ridge. They complete the blend which makes Walnut Ridge a vital part of every student's life and a place to remember in after years.

Administration

Mr. Thatcher and Mr. Abele take time out from their busy schedules to pose for the photographer.

The administration of every school is the guiding force that makes the school what it is. At Walnut Ridge, Principal Don E. Thatcher and Vice-Principal William C. Abele are the two men responsible for making the daily schedule run smoothly.

Mrs. Marie Davis correlates teachers' schedules, one of her many secretarial chores.

Secretaries

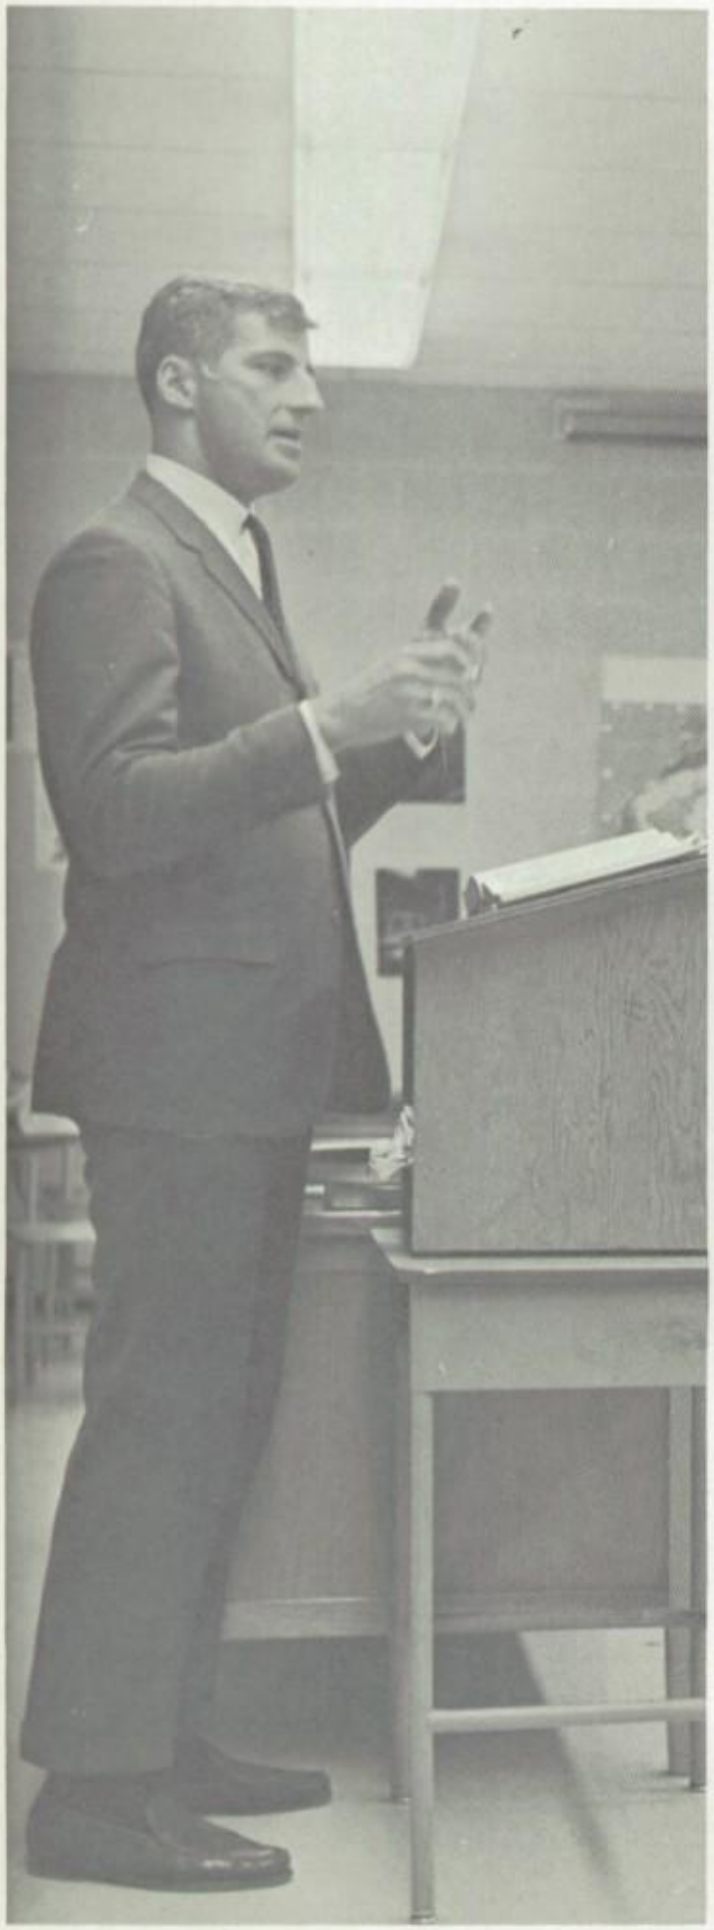
Backing up the administration are the secretaries. Always willing to take time out from their busy schedules, Mrs. Marie Davis and Mrs. Margaret J. Evans are good friends to students who need information or help.

MRS. MARGARET J. EVANS

MRS. MARIE DAVIS

Faculty

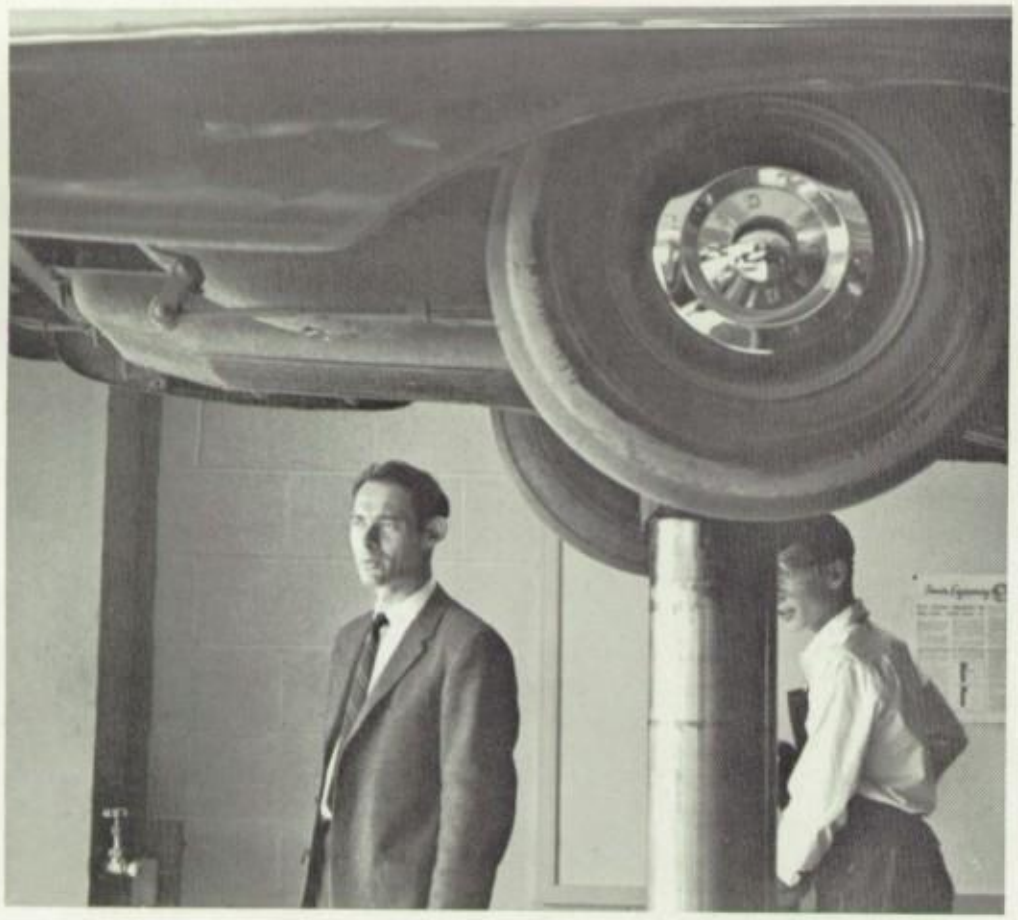
A teacher is more than "one who instructs or guides in learning." A teacher is a leader, a listener, a helper. Most of all, a teacher is a friend who understands.



Ticking off his points on facile fingers, Mr. Glick holds the attention of a class in government.

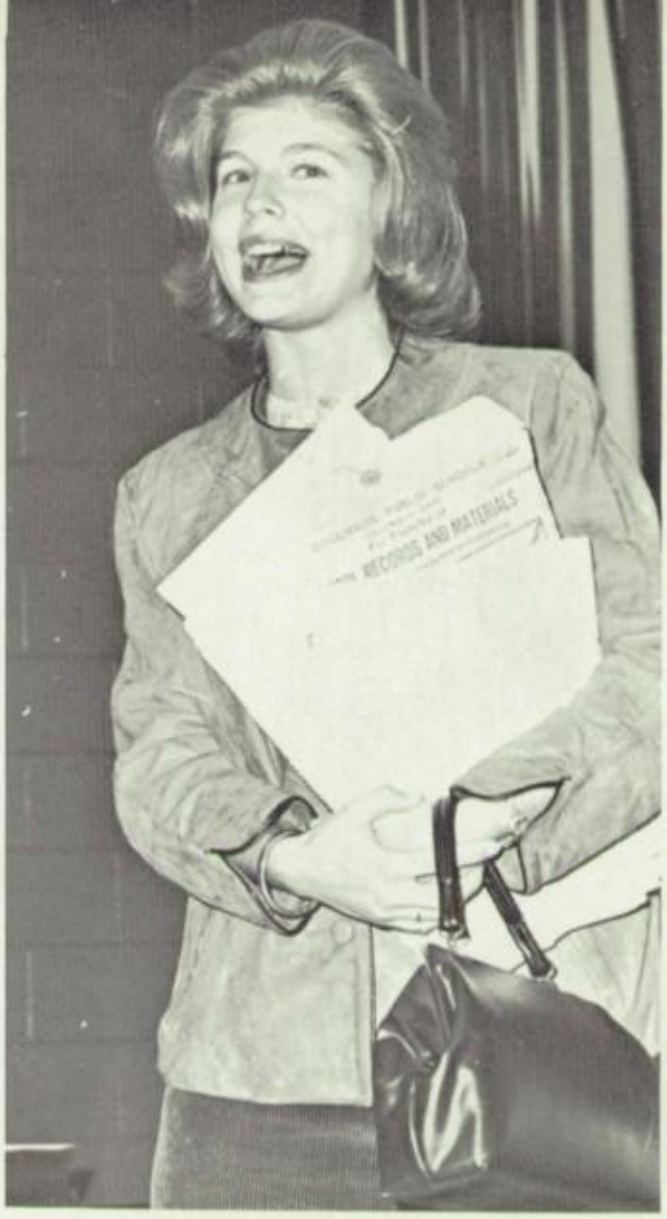
Leaving the State Mental Hospital after a busy clean-up day, Miss Emig finds time to joke with some of her student workers.

Aptly framed doorway leads to view of an Art class under the eye of Mr. Spratley.

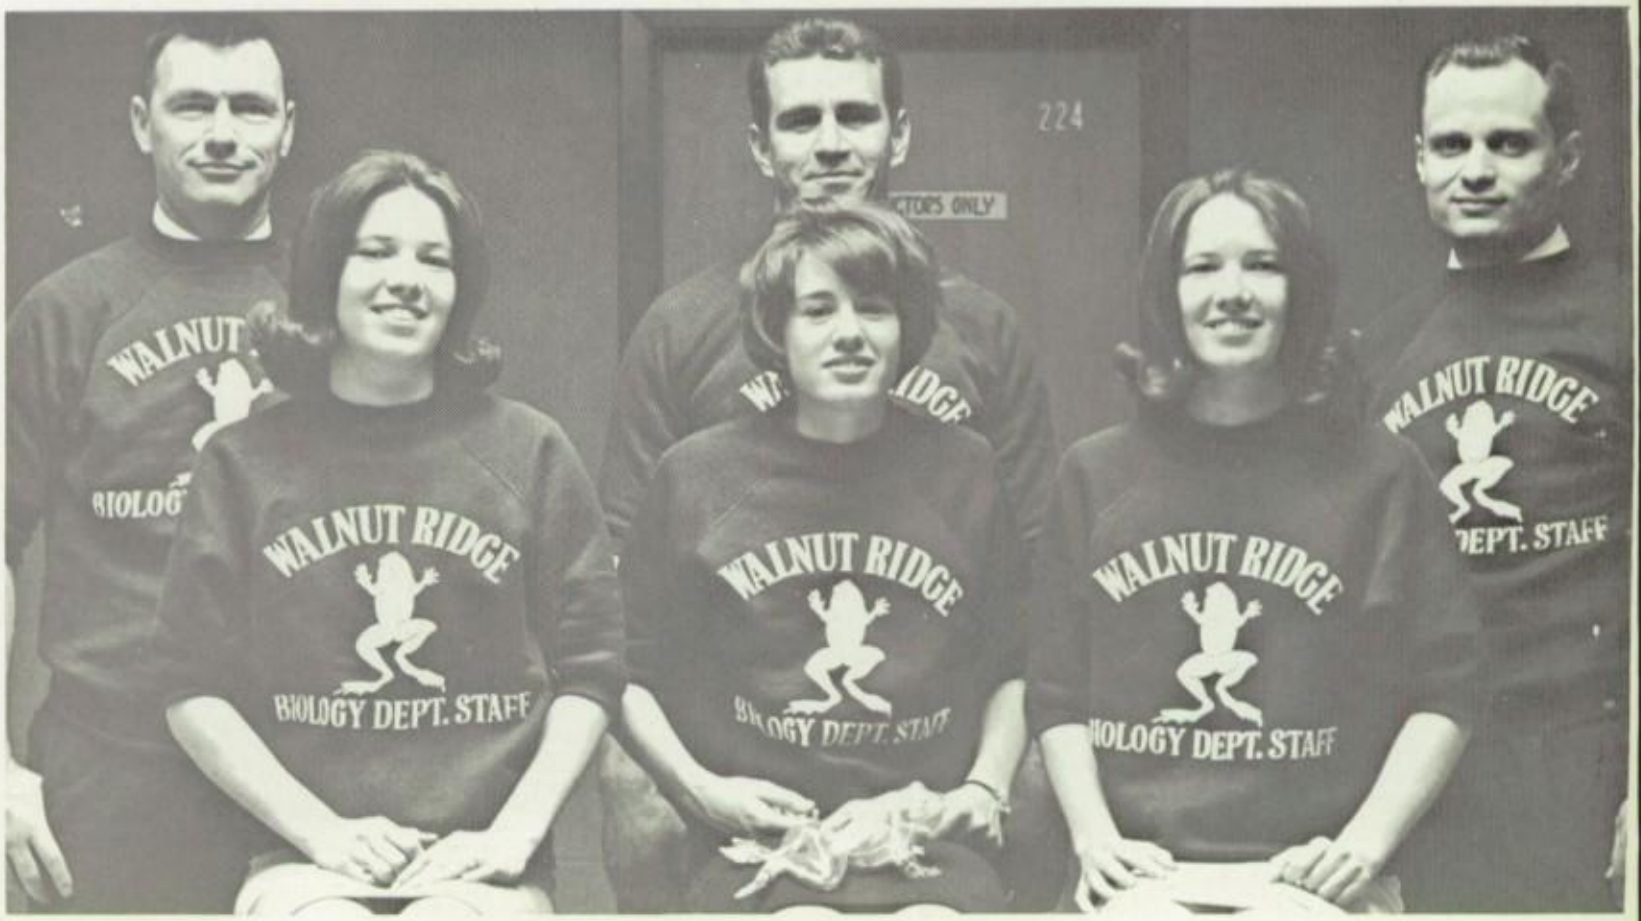


First step in teaching auto repair to eager students is often to grapple with a problem that is over your head, as Mr. Parks here illustrates.

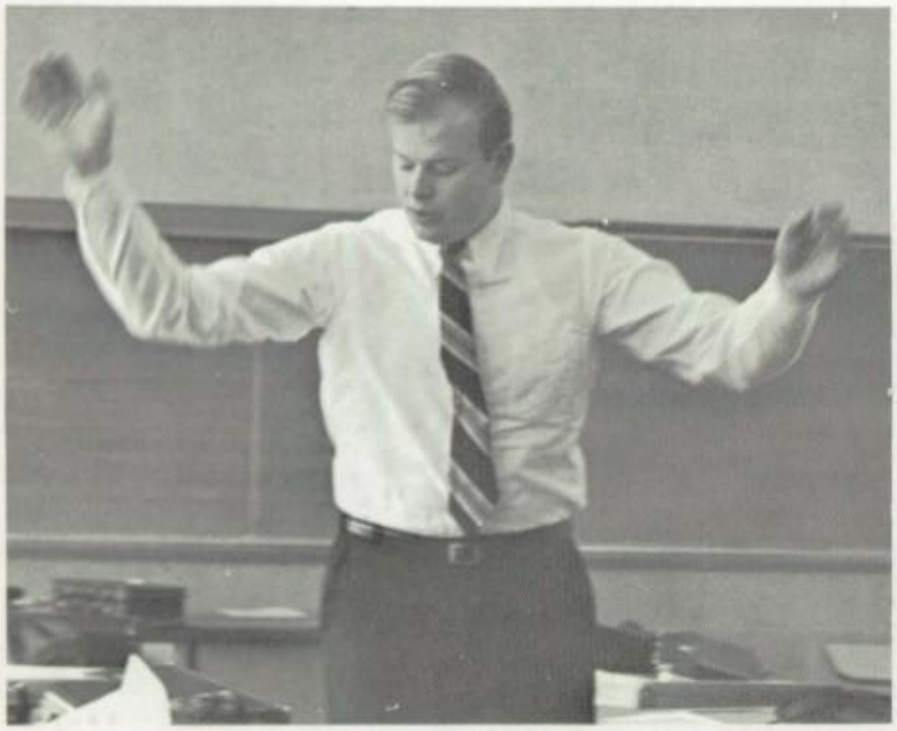
"It can happen here" is the thought mirrored in Mr. Pruitt's face as he sits out a student-led discussion.



"Who's afraid of the big, bad paper-work?" chortles Mrs. Lilly with her customary big smile.



Team teaching just naturally calls for the team to be in uniform, so the Biology Brigade of Harry McKnight, Rick Cermelj and Tom Kraner don identical sweatshirts, as do their student assistants Carol and Sue Swonger and Becky Carter.



Mr. Berry "lets himself go" as he directs the band in rehearsal before the district contest.

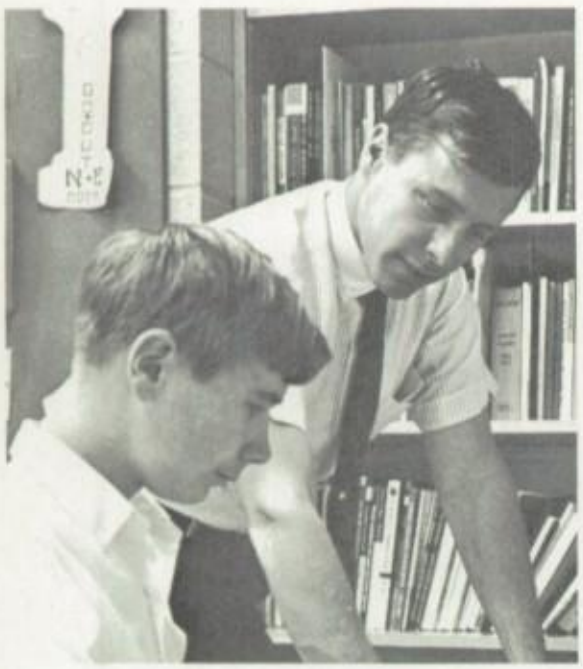
Mr. Thomas listens attentively as a student explains to his classmates how he got the answer to a math problem.



Mr. Love helps answer "Which college?"

Mrs. Pettibone is always ready with friendly, sage counsel.

Guidance

Miss Robson gives encouragement to a young knitter.

Attendance

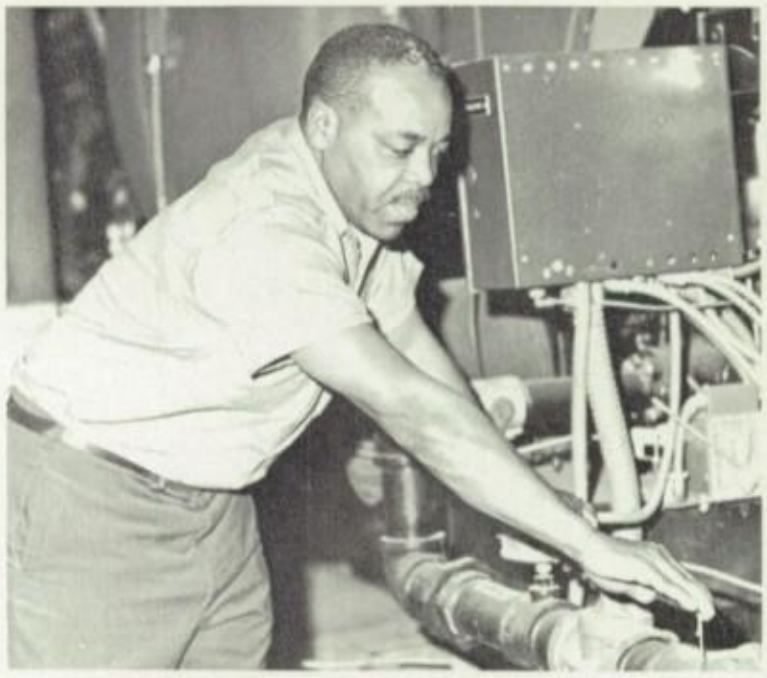
Students help Mr. Webster keep track of absentees.

Mrs. Clingo checks on a missing student via phone.

Mrs. Bain mixes the usual king-size batch of goodies.

CUSTODIAL

Keeping house for over 1700 persons calls for lots of know-how, liberally applied. Neatness and cleanliness of Walnut Ridge is a tribute to the staff of busy custodians.



Willie Holland, assistant head custodian, says it helps to know which valve to turn among the many.

CAFETERIA

Large scale cookery tends to spoil a homemaker for family-size meals. Who ever heard of blending a sack of flour and 10 pounds of shortening in a home kitchen? Cafeteria workers do it every day, and get the biscuits out of the ovens right on time for student lunches, too.

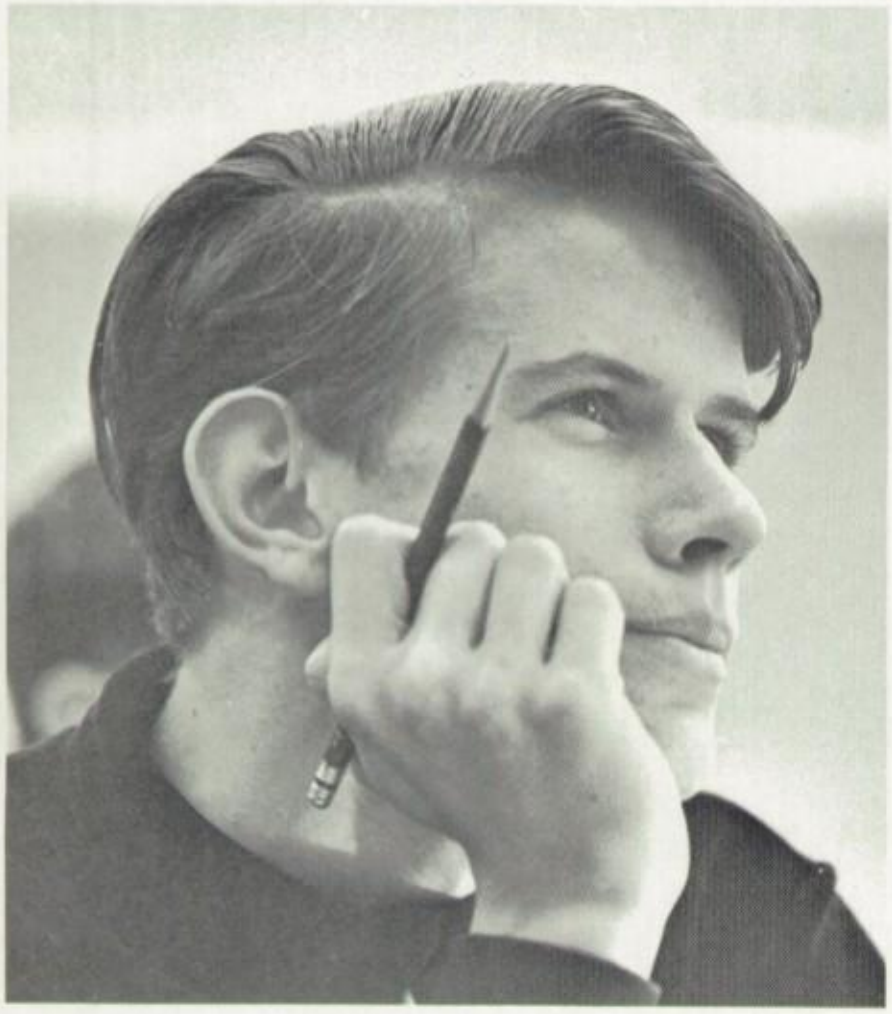
Desserts are kept fresh and eye-filling in the huge refrigerators until lunchtime, as shown here.

Mrs. Robinson goes after an elusive cobweb.

Head Custodian George Higgins catches up on his paperwork.

Mrs. Leslein checks out cashier Sandy Petty after lunch hour.

Academics



Walnut Ridge Is. . .

Education. . .

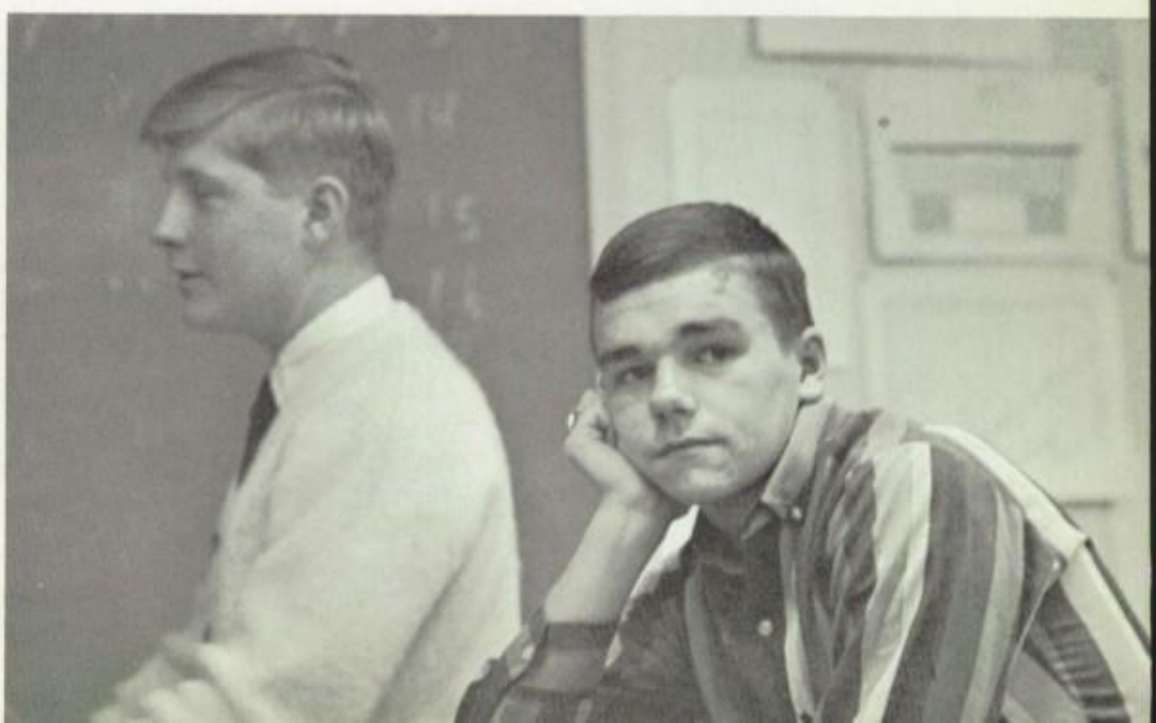
Georgia Conway, Larry Bowman, and Chuck Crook seem deep in thought over a law of physics.

Minds Grow

"To be or not to be," muses Susie Patterson. "Gee, I wish I'd said that!"

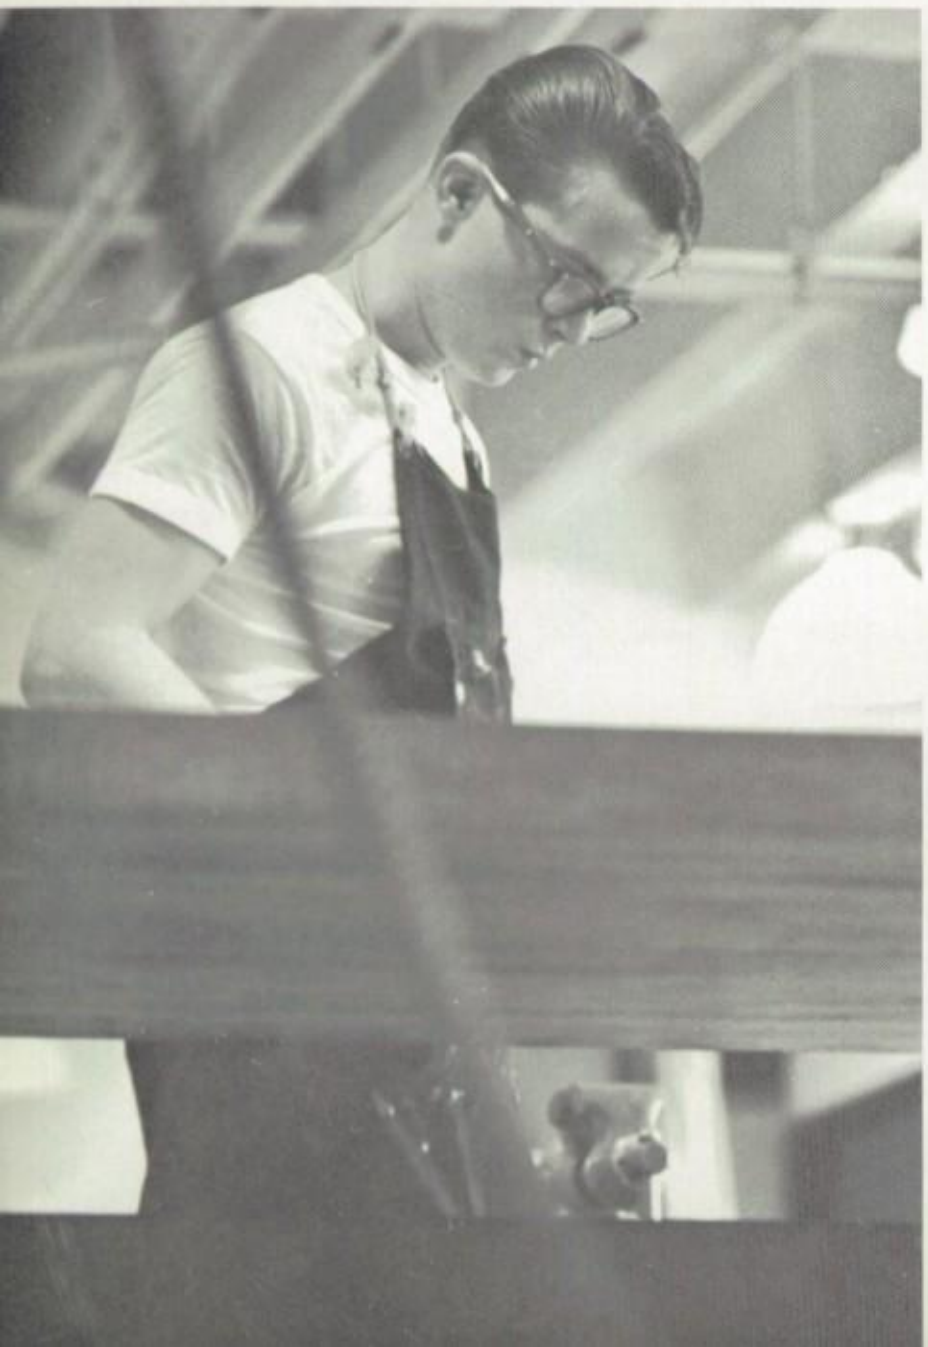
Connie Cloud and Sandi Petty discuss what to prepare for the next menu while Majorie Brobst receives instructions from Mrs. Lilly.

Some junior high students prepare for the next class while others engage in idle conversation in a lunchroom study hall.



Jim Kinser is obviously intent on the teacher's lecture.

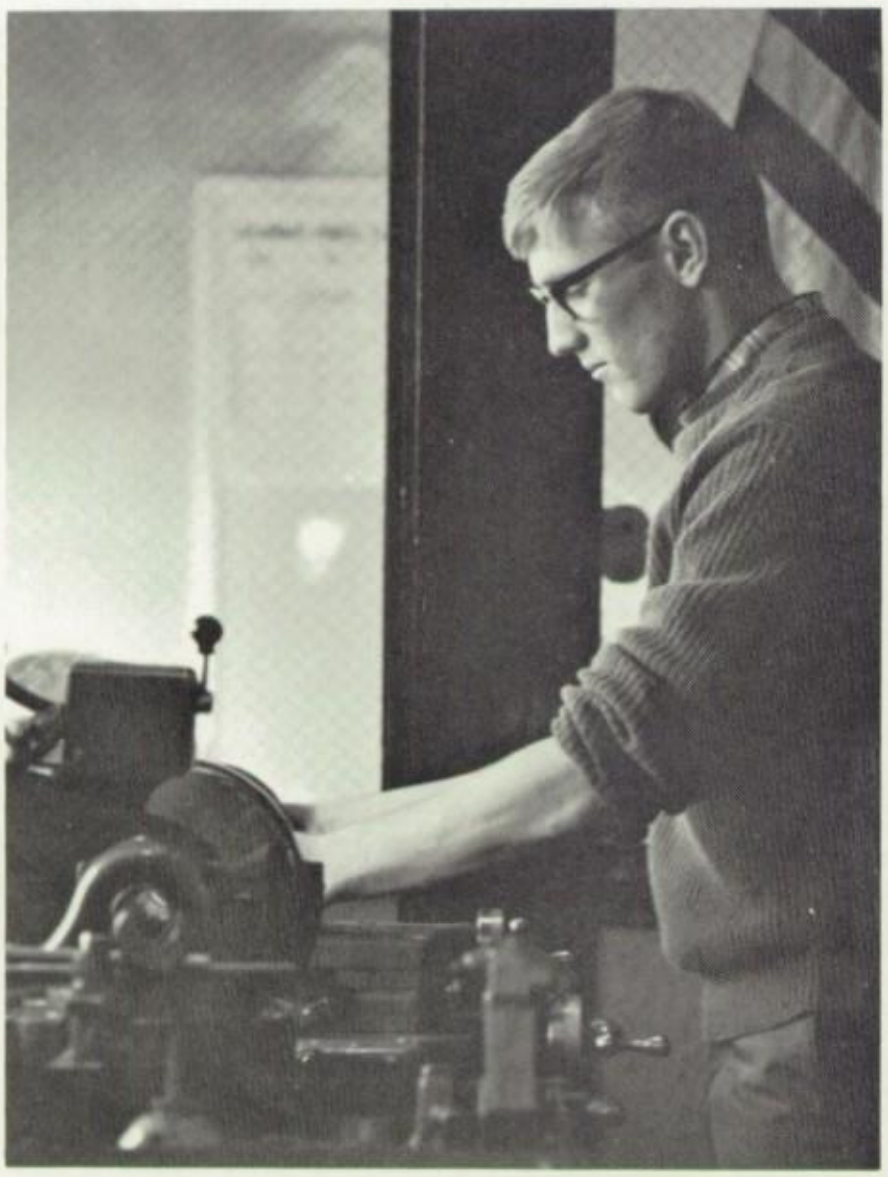
Donna Hedrick puts the finishing touches on her fudge as Debbie Simms anxiously awaits the first piece.



Mastery Of Skills

"Let's see, did he say a 2 x 4 or a 4 x 2?" grimaces Allen Brookover.

JoAnn Endicott learns that sewing a fine seam is important even in the jet age.



Greg Fout demonstrates man's mastery of the mindless machine.

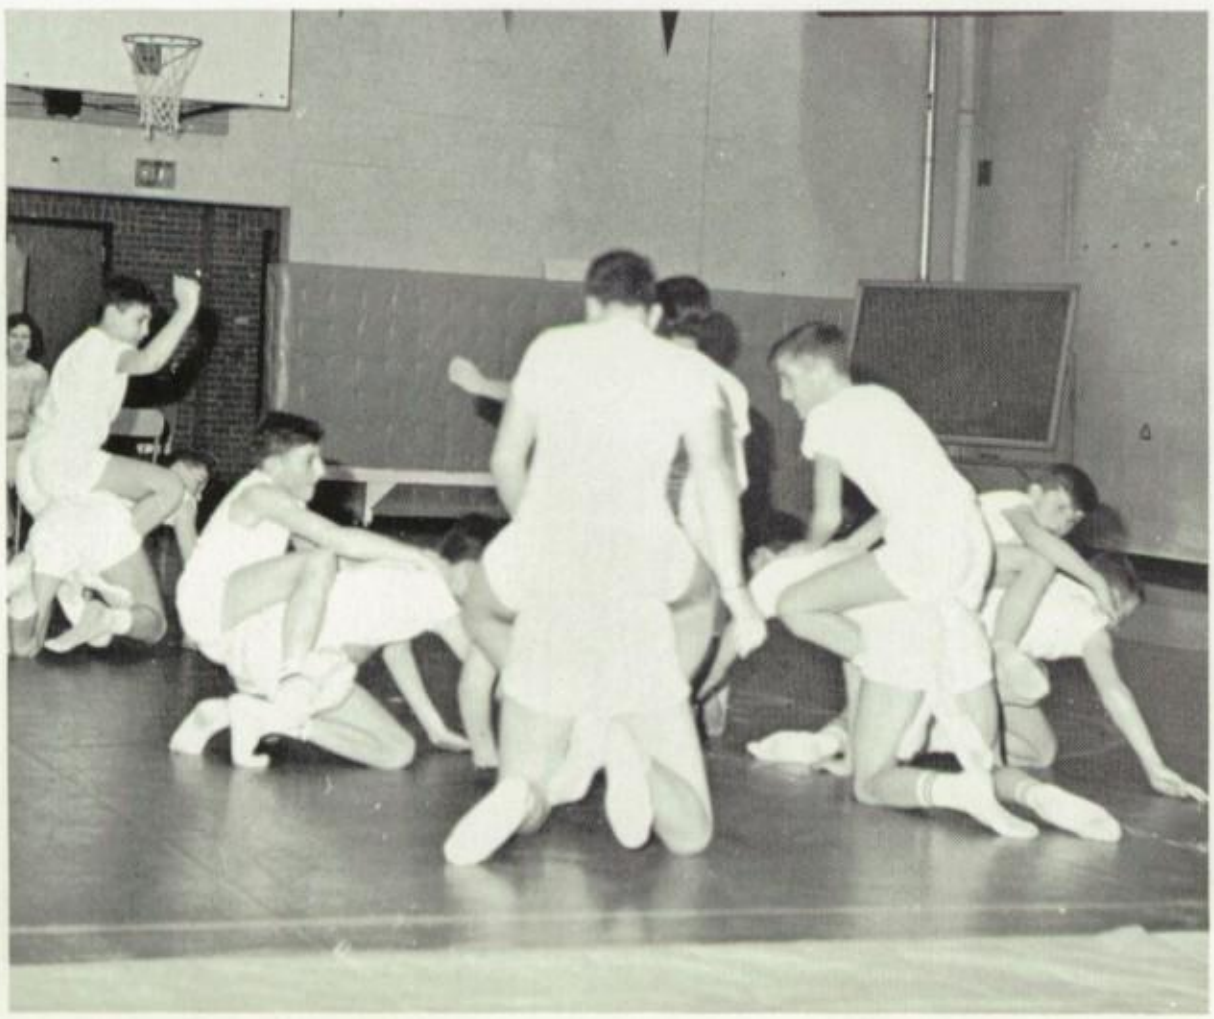
"So that's where they keep the engine," muses Pat Nolan.

"Well, it LOOKED like it was going over the net."

Feeling Of Accomplishment. . .

Mr. Stephenson helps Beth Pinnick and Kathi Tamanini solve the mystery of changing a flat tire.

A typing assignment demands complete concentration from these dedicated students.



A boys' gym class is transformed into a human rodeo.

Development

Of Talents. . .

The mood of the piece is reflected in Tammy Pence's face.

Becky Dugan learns that developing a talent can sometimes be a messy job.

Sopranos count the rests while waiting for their cue.

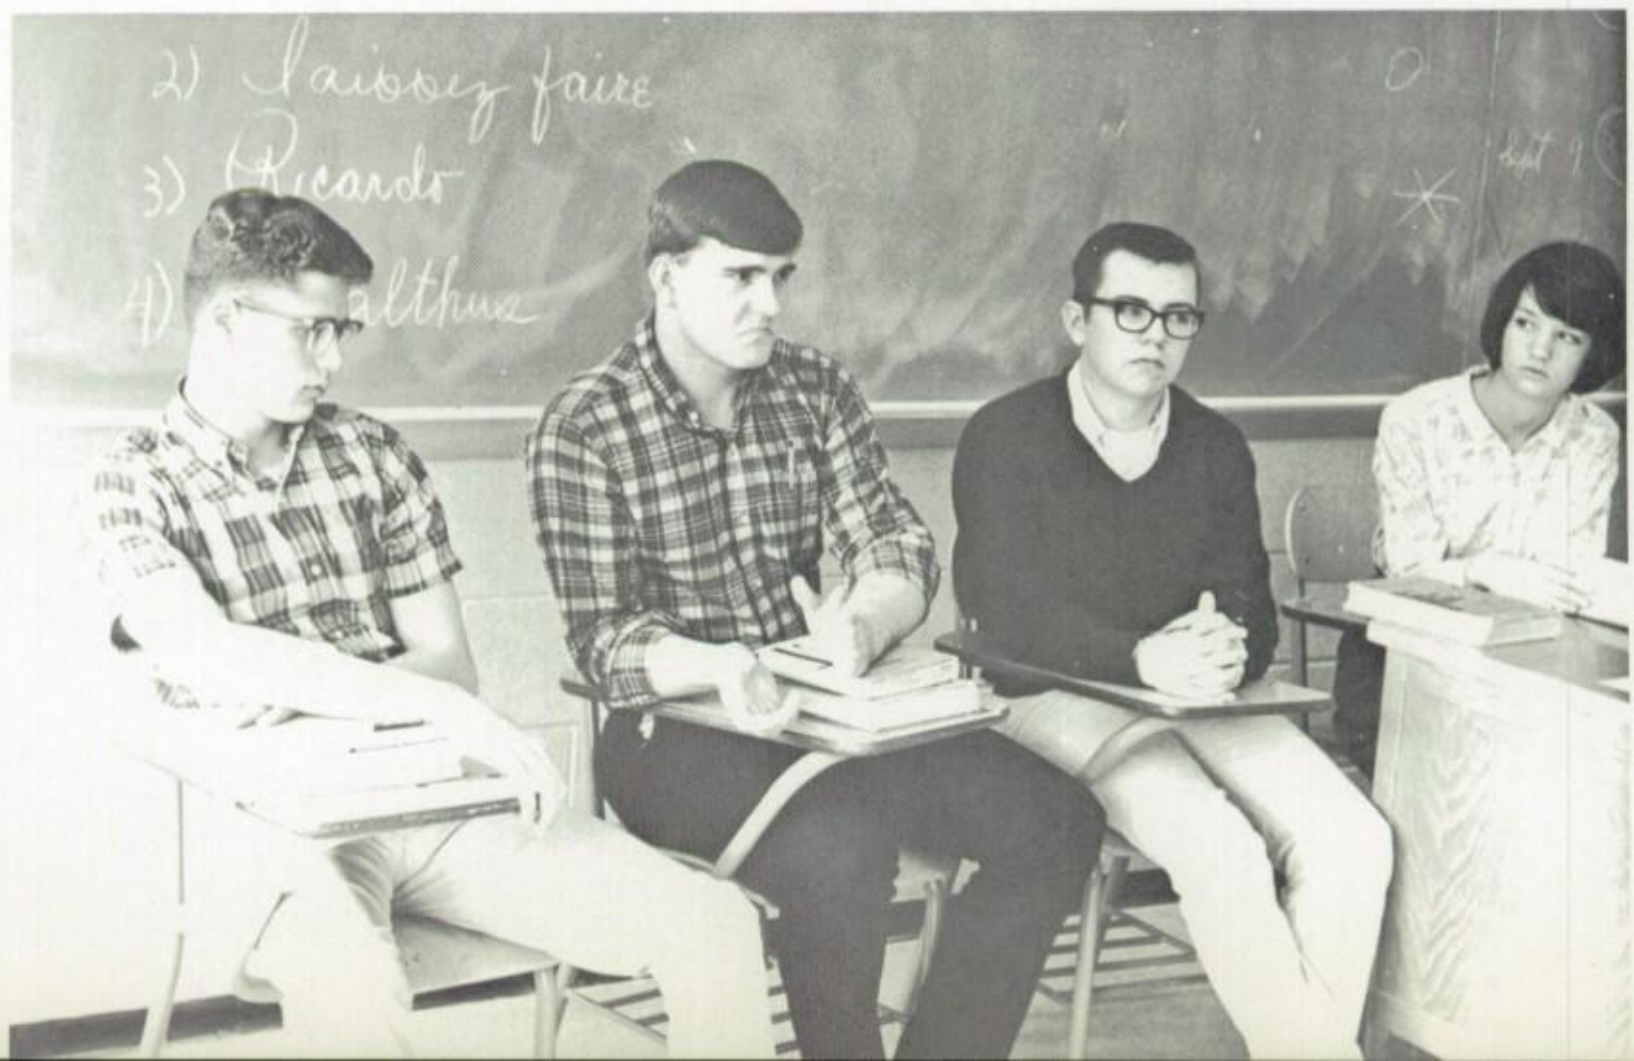
Linda Thoma pauses before putting the finishing touches on her clay sculpture.

Bob Scott and Mark Greenwood polish their techniques with an extra practice session.

"Let's see, is this Pizza Day or is it tomorrow?"

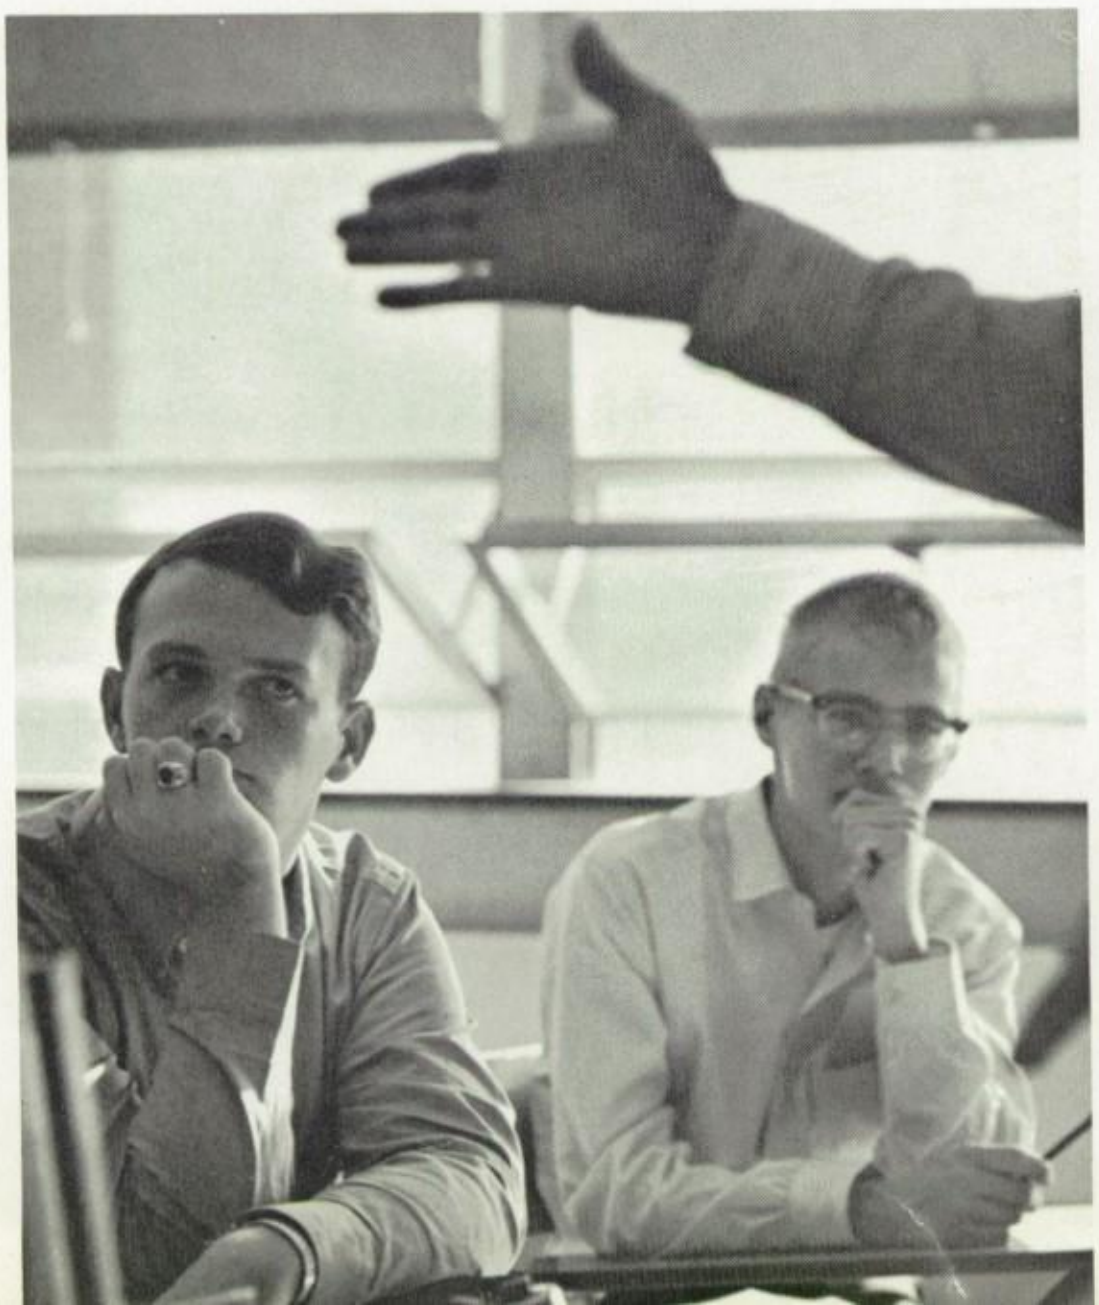
Ideas Sprout. . .

Larry Kearns, Tom Sutton, Wayne Harbert, and Brenda Brown add variety to world history with a panel discussion.

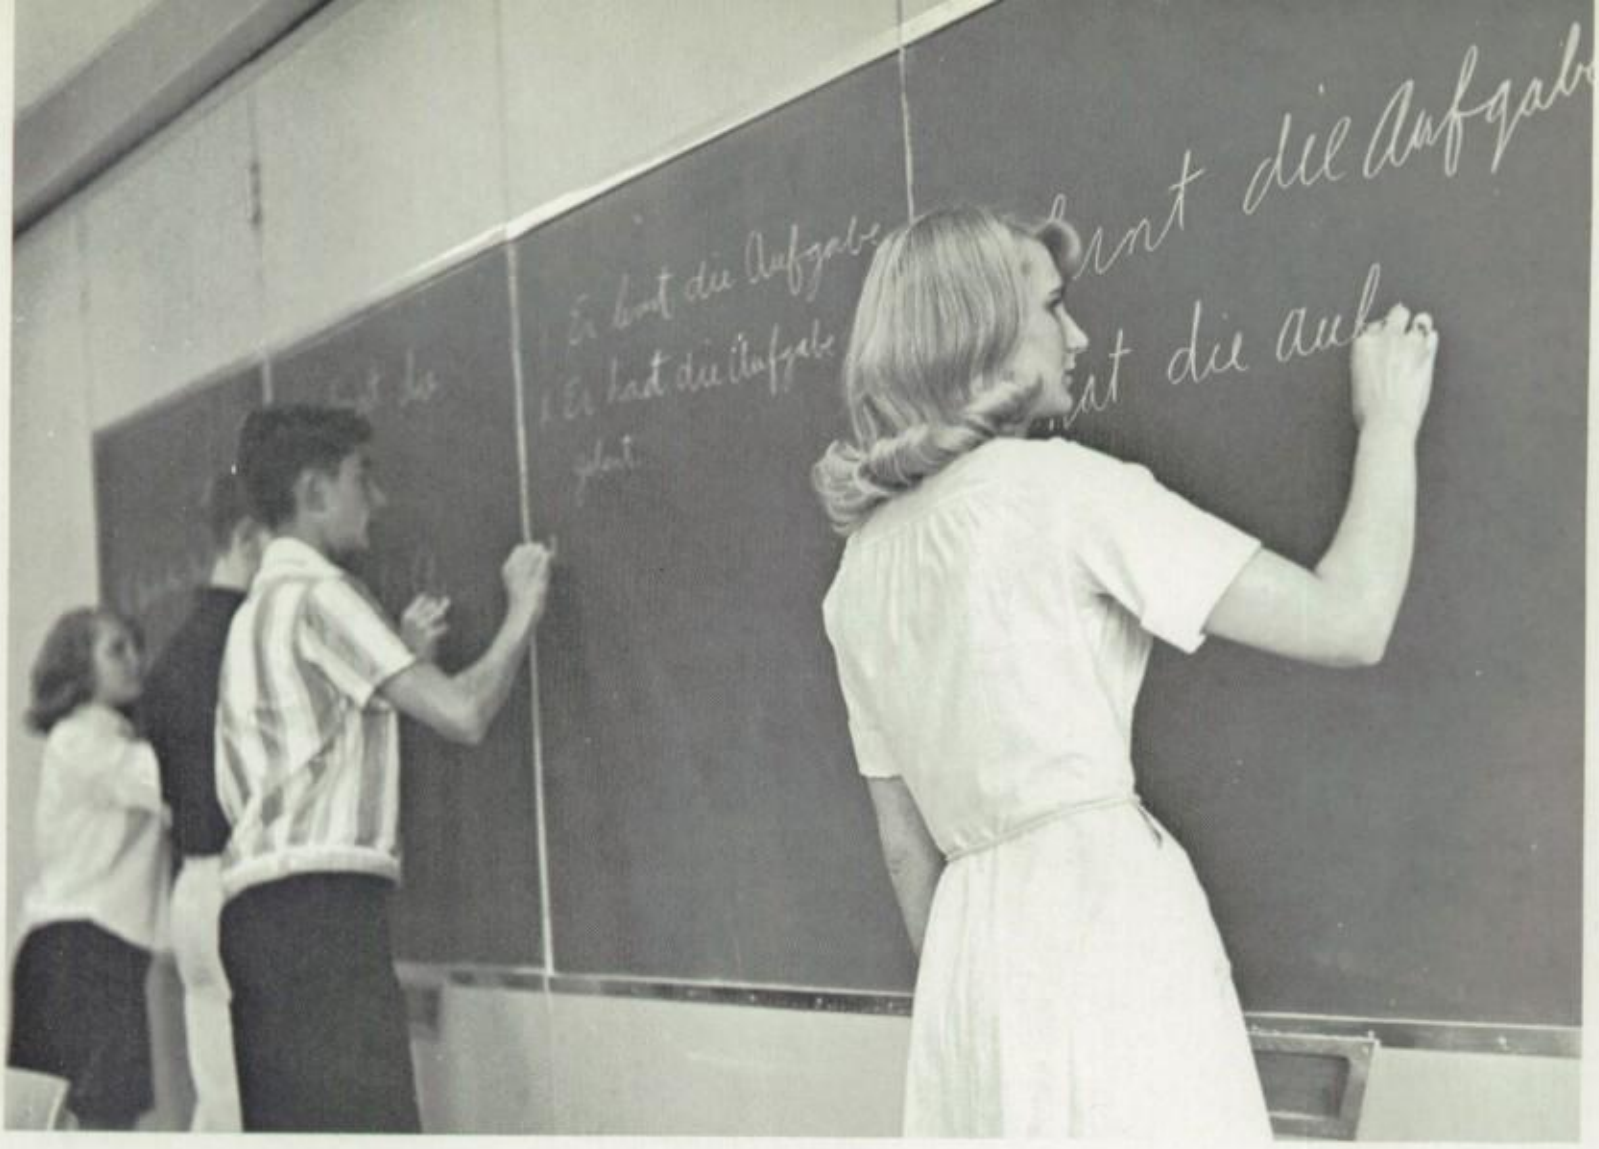


Being Informed . . .

Cathy Sestito appears to be enjoying her temporary teaching position, during Senior Teaching Day.



As Joe Weekly listens to Mr. Pruitt's explanation that a "gabbernot" has five smooth sides, Ronnie Sieg doubtfully questions what it has to do with P. O. D.



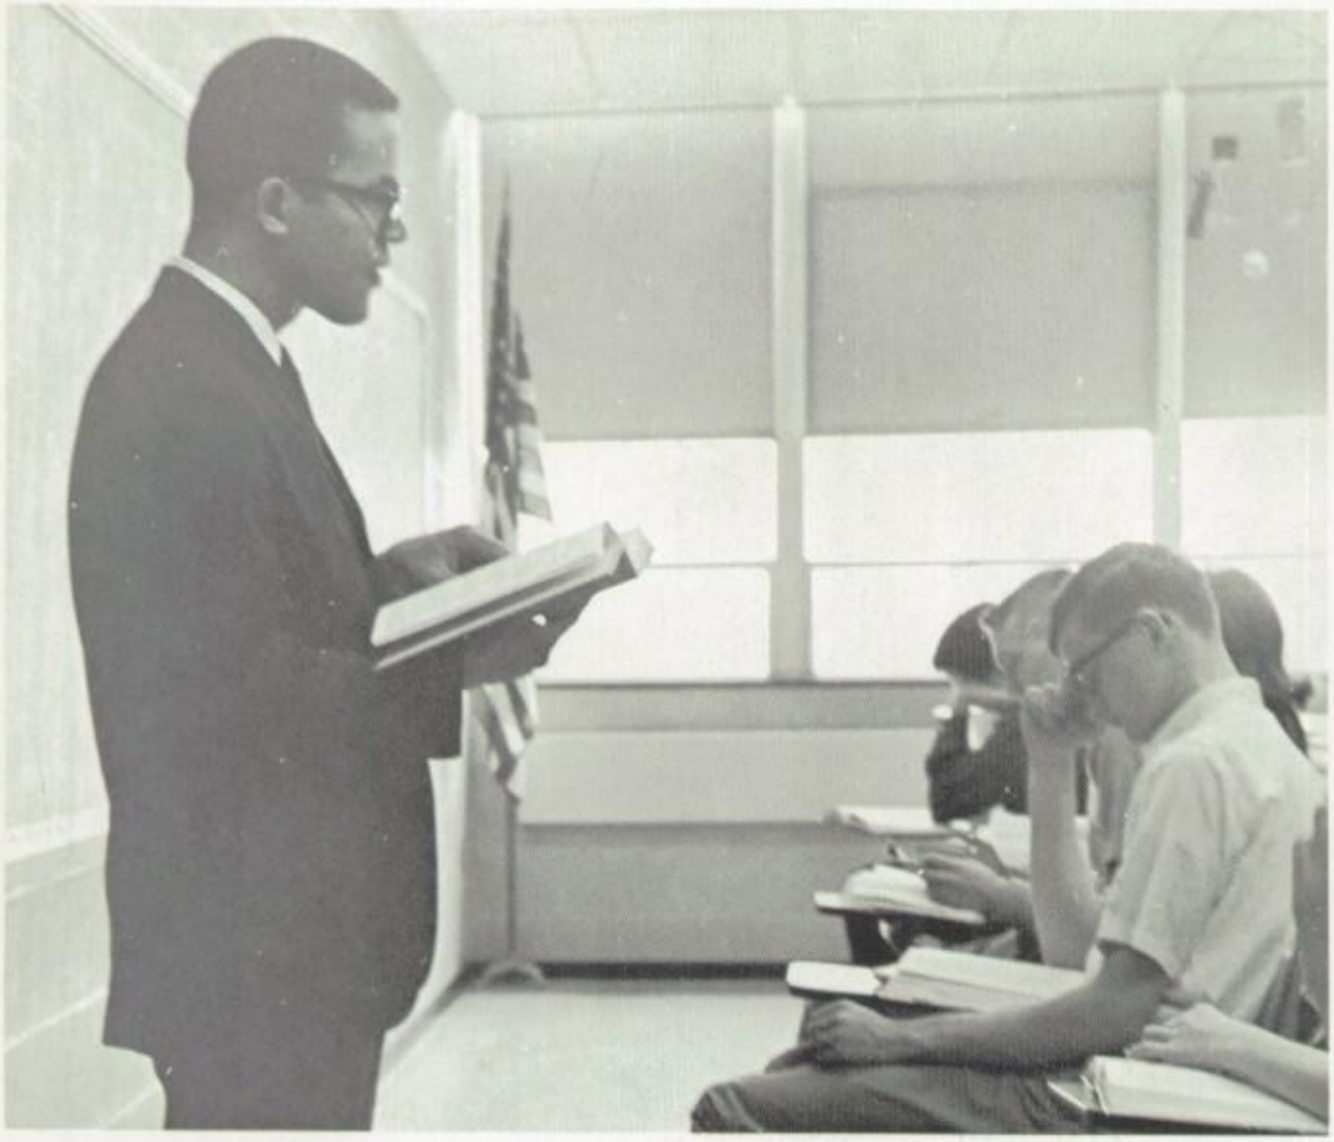
Chalk is put to good use by German student Marsha Milke.

Familiarity With Mankind. . .

Mr. Stein points out the correct grammar to a first-year Latin student.

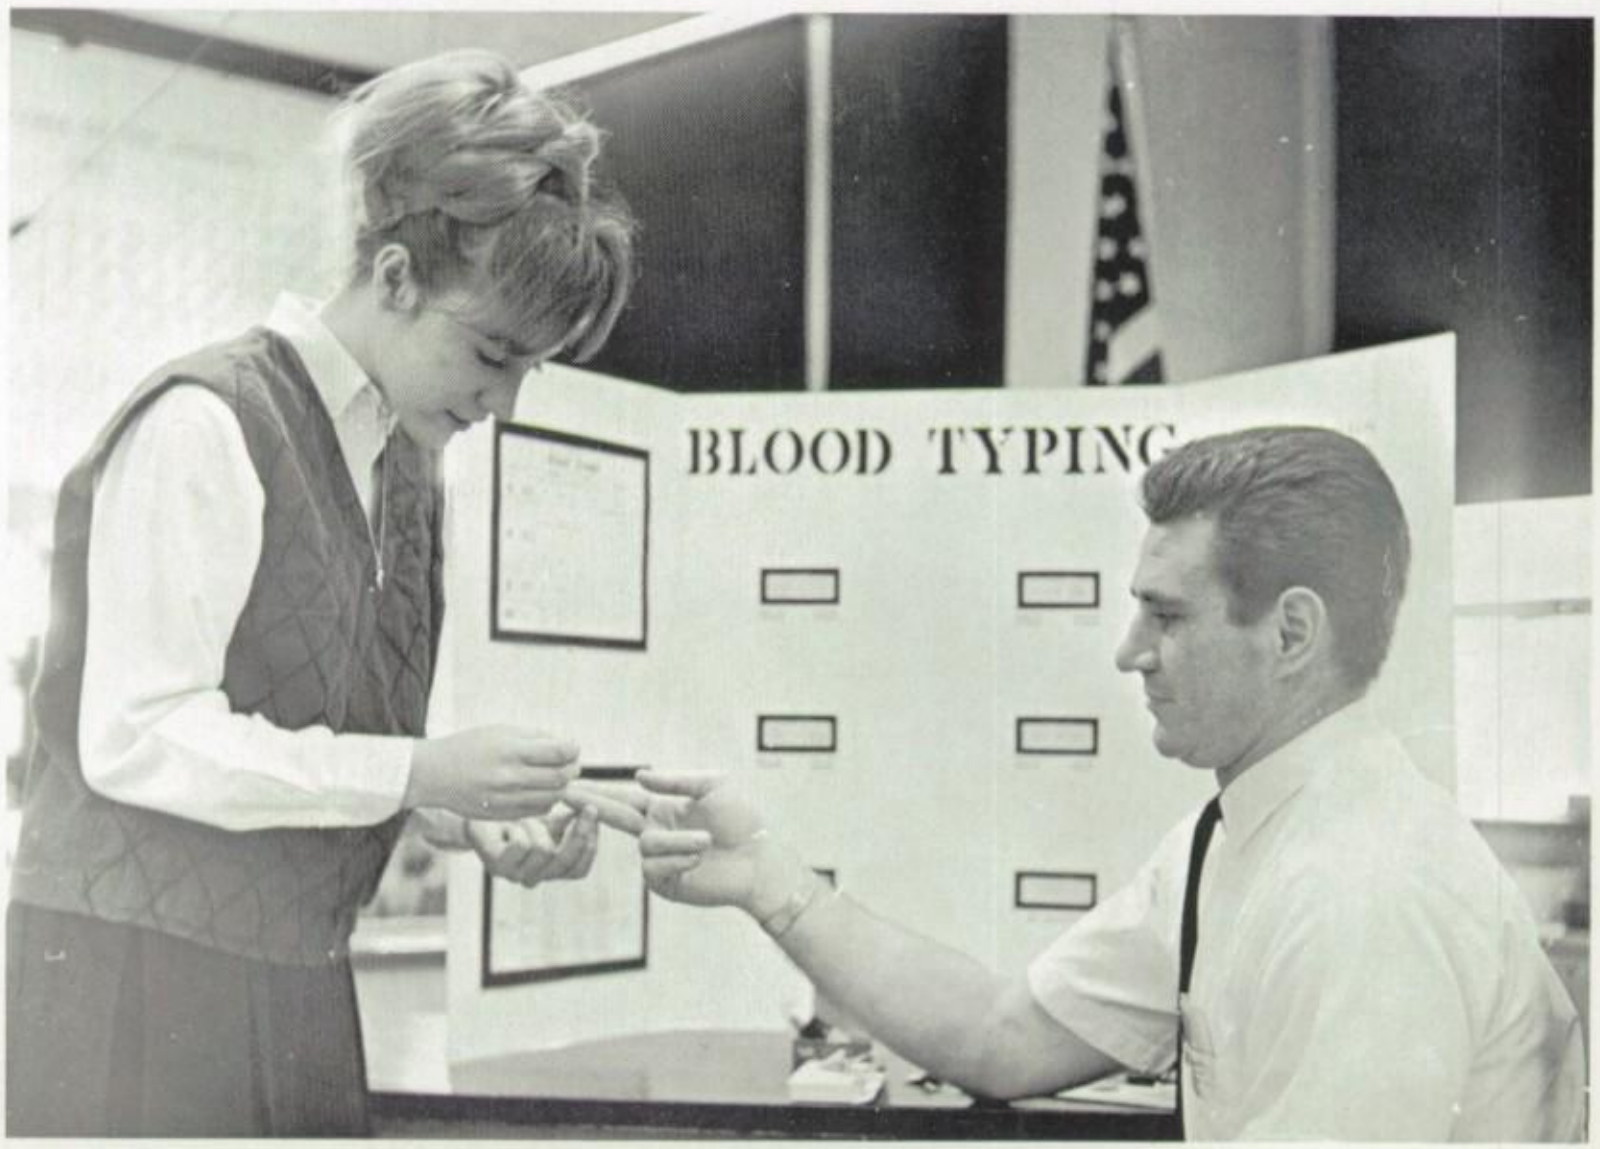
"Who cares how many wives Henry VIII had?" Candy Curry seems to be thinking. Even world history can become boring, her pose hints.

These French I students become solemn as they turn their attention to their workbooks.

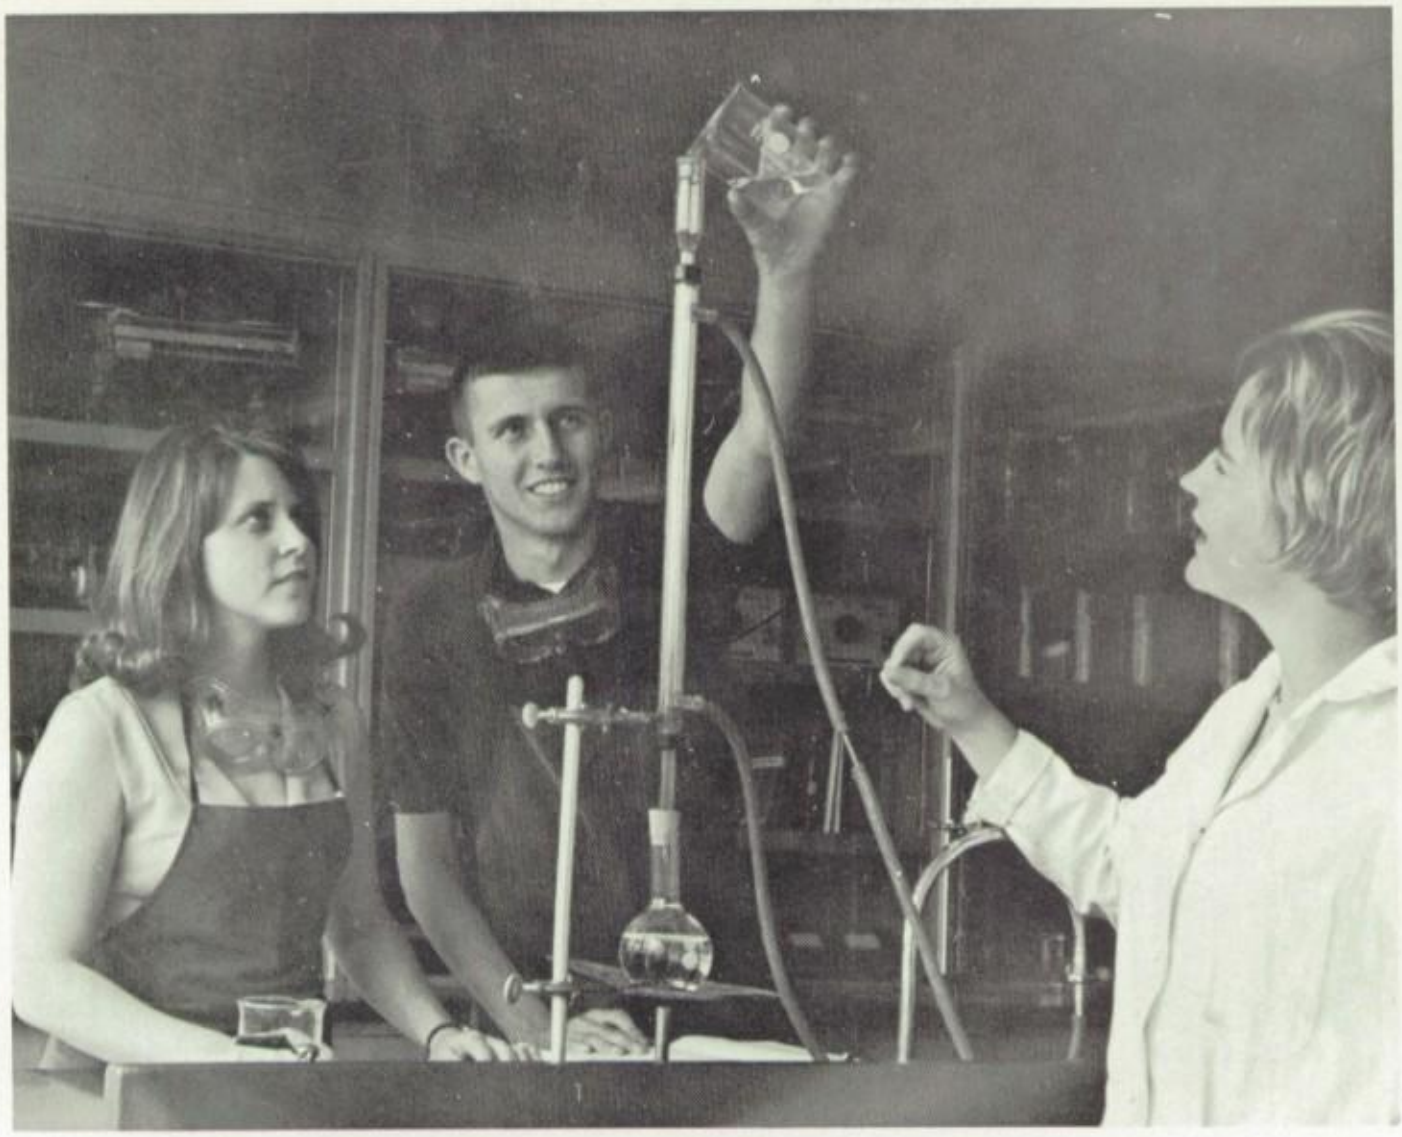


Precise Thinking. . .

Mr. Thomas explains the fundamentals of basic algebra to his pensive students.



Mr. Cermelj looks unperturbed as Susie Patterson begins typing his blood.



Mrs. Barker beams approval on Linda Lambert and Rick Houchen as they perform a chemistry experiment.

The Open Door To Success

Mr. Rockwell and his physics students share a moment of dry humor around the ripple tank.

Student Council At Work. . .

The purpose of the Student Council is to help draw the administration, faculty, and student body closer together by working together.

This year the Student Council again sponsored the Homecoming Dance. The theme was "Golden Harvest."

The suggestion box, which was used for the first time this year, proved to be a valuable asset to the council. All constructive suggestions were discussed and acted upon by the council.

Projects concerning a foreign exchange student, revision of the school handbook, a magazine drive for the Belles for Mental Health, and career day are just a few of the activities handled by this year's council.

The victory bell which is exchanged between Walnut Ridge and Eastmoor, and correspondence with the Alloa Academy in Scotland are just two projects which have been carried over and continued by this year's Student Council.

These projects mentioned, together with many more activities, all combine to make the Student Council an effective and useful organization.

A masked bandit? No, it's just Linda Wessel working at the State Hospital.

Gifts from our sister school in Scotland have proved a worthwhile addition to Walnut Ridge.

Bake Sales help to raise the funds necessary for Council to carry on its many activities.

Student Court

Martin Wolfe receives his verdict, guilty as charged, in an appearance before Student Court judges.

The purpose of Student Court is to promote a high standard of behavior among the pupils of all grades represented at Walnut Ridge. The court's function is one of guidance as well as discipline. Offenders are brought before the justices and punishments are assigned according to the nature and degree of the offense. Student Court teaches respect for the principles and high standards of Walnut Ridge.

Interclub Council

The Interclub Council is composed of the presidents of each of the school organizations. It functions as a coordinating body within the school. At their annual luncheon, council members discuss the activities of the various groups.

. . .Service

Office Helpers

All school service groups are composed of members from the student body who wish to serve the school, and at the same time gain experience which will be beneficial to their own future. These students volunteer their time to assist teachers, staff members, and fellow students. Their work enables Walnut Ridge to function smoothly and efficiently.

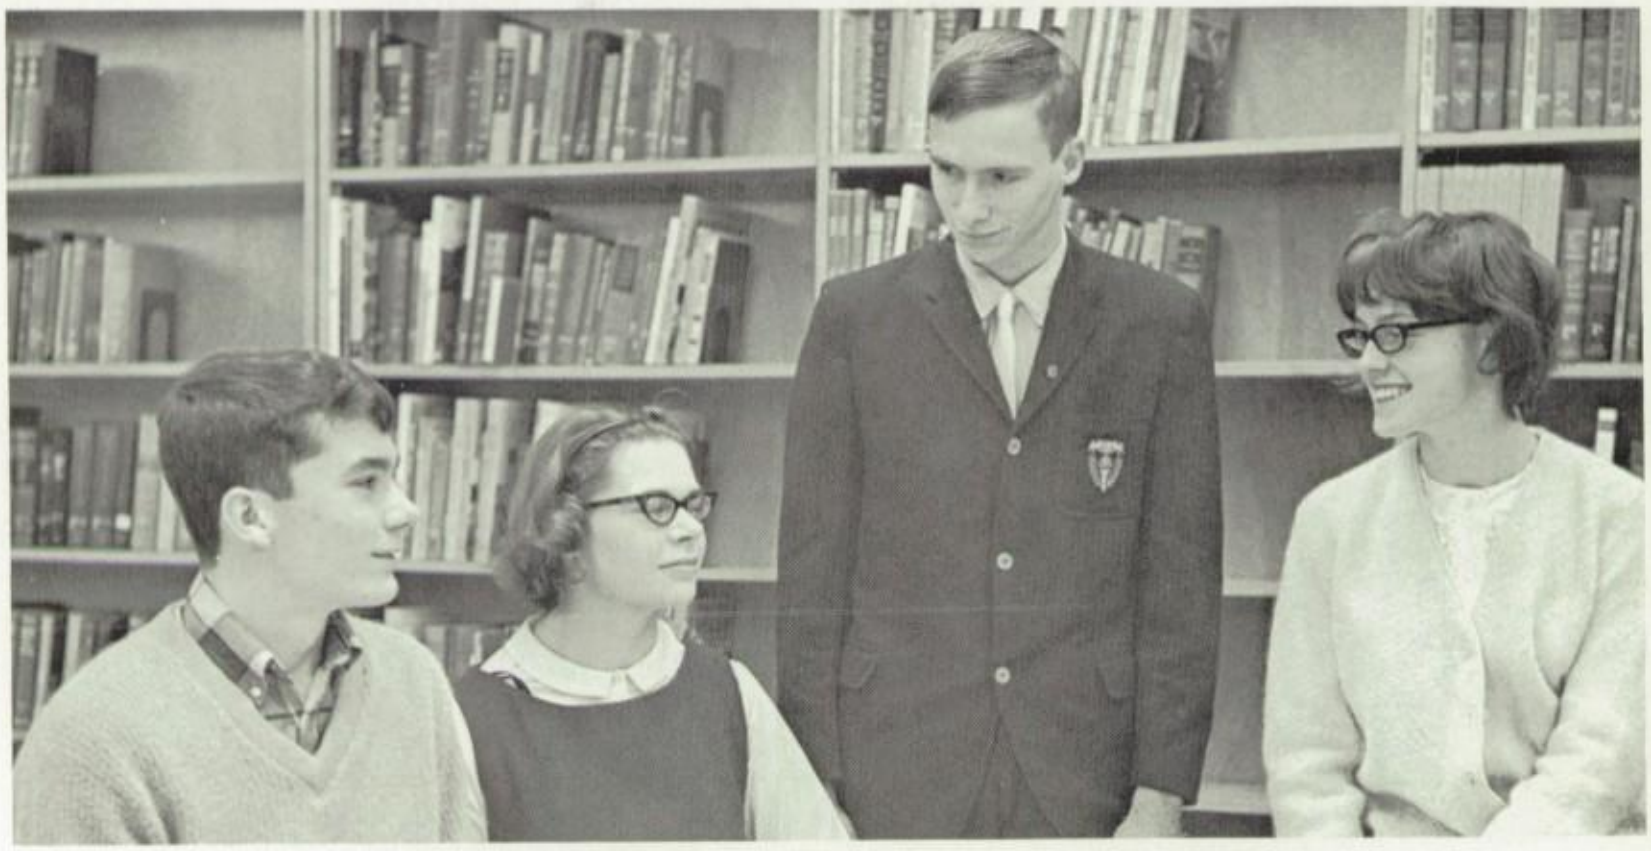
FTA

Future Teachers of America is for students interested in education as a career. FTA members learn teaching skills by assisting Walnut Ridge teachers in various ways. For this, they earn service points. Members of FTA realize the benefits and personal satisfactions to be achieved in the field of education. Once a year, they take over classes on Senior Teaching Day.

Writers' Forum



Alan Barnes, Suzanne Fisher, Kenneth Lonitz, Mary Jo McNamara.

Writers' Forum enables students to master the skills of effective writing and gain an appreciation of the art of writing. Club members learn to express themselves and develop their own thoughts.

Future Business Leaders of America is an organization designed to develop skills which will be useful in the business world. Through this organization, students help prepare themselves for a successful career.

. . .Hobbies

The students of Walnut Ridge have many and varied interests. There are clubs to suit all tastes, and students may participate in several worthwhile and enjoyable activities. These clubs give members a chance to pursue their hobbies and discover new interests. Faculty advisors guide the organizations toward successful goals and encourage students to take an interest in outside activities. Hobbies provide an opportunity for Walnut Ridge students to use their energy in a worthwhile way.

Science Seminar

Members of the Science Seminar are interested in "how" things happen and "why" they occur in this way. Through research and experimentation, these students learn to apply the fundamental laws of science to their own work. Inquisitive minds such as these have led to the great discoveries of our world.

Chess and Amateur Radio Clubs are groups which hold a special attraction for the boys of Walnut Ridge. Through clubs such as these, students have an opportunity to join with others who share similar interests.

What is a Y-Teen? Well, she's a very busy girl, that's for sure! Y-Teens began the year with a big kickoff party at Yorkshire. To make Christmas a little happier for some, Y-Teens, along with Hi-Y, collected forty baskets of food for needy families. Other activities included a caroling party with Hi-Y, a sumptuous feast titled "Around the World in 80 Dishes," the annual Teacher Butter-Up, and a slumber, (or anti-slumber) party at the YWCA. As service projects Y-Teens participated in the TAP Drive, Lily Parade, and gave a Halloween party for women at the State Hospital. Fund raisers included the annual Ugly Man's Dance as well as bake sales. Final event of the year was the Mother-Daughter Banquet, which included the installation of new officers.

Officers for 1965-66 were President Deidra McMillin, Vice-President Margo Hibbler, Secretary Beth Pinnick, and Treasurer Ginger Rueckel.

Walnut Ridge Girls' Athletic Association encourages interest among girls in athletic activities. As they work together, the girls learn the benefits of good sportsmanship and fellowship. Girls participate in competitive sports such as basketball, volleyball, and bowling. Fund-raising events raise money for events which round out the year's program. Through GAA, Walnut Ridge girls have an opportunity to improve their mental and physical state.

Foreign Lands. . .

America is a melting pot for people of all lands, and at Walnut Ridge, the flavor of foreign lands has become an important part of the school program. Students learn the native tongues of the French, Spanish, Germans, and Latins by electing these courses in school. They may further their knowledge of these lands and their people through the language clubs. Here, students learn about the life and culture of these lands and participate in many activities. Through these clubs, students learn to appreciate ways of life other than their own.

The French Club has spent a busy and fun-filled year. While enjoying such activities as making crepes suzette, a swimming party, picnic, the city-wide French banquet, skits, and speakers, the students have learned about life "a la francais." Many of the French Club members plan to continue their study of the language after high school, and their activities in this organization will give them a solid background for their work.

"And they say boys can't cook!" laugh gourmet chefs Terry McKray and Bill Weidinger.

Spanish Club

Members of the Spanish Club have found that the Spaniards are a fun-loving, intriguing people. Films on Spain, and Latin America, skits, two dinners, a dance, and a picnic are samples of some of the activities which the club sponsored. Students gain an understanding of Spanish customs and develop an interest in the land and its people.

The German spirit invaded Walnut Ridge in full force this year, as German Club members enjoyed many events with a flair for fun. A kick-off picnic was followed by a hayride, slides of Austria shown by Kathi Vian, a progressive dinner party, and caroling. One of the highlights of the year was the spirited Fasching Festival, modeled after the original German celebration. Club members also cooked apfelpfannkuchen and ended the year with a banquet.

Latin Club

"I bet Julius Caesar didn't even have to know this stuff!" muses Latin Club Member Darlene White as she goes over her Latin assignment for the day.

Latin Club, also known as the Junior Classic League, has proven that Latin is not dead, but remains a vital part of today's world. During the year, the club sponsored such events as a Christmas party, pizza party, films, and a picnic. Through these programs, Latin Club members enriched their appreciation of their Latin heritage and enjoyed the many facets of Latin culture. Latin Club is a thriving part of the cultural life of Walnut Ridge.

Musical

The sound of music echoes through the halls of Walnut Ridge: voices raised in song, the crash of cymbals and drums, the lilting harmony of an orchestra. The Walnut Ridge music department led an active year, participating in the district and state music contests, school assemblies, and many special performances.

The various vocal and instrumental groups have added that "special something" to the school--the sound of music.

Senior choir was kept busy throughout the year. They were privileged to perform at the Central Ohio Teachers' Conference at Mershon Auditorium, and the Rotary Club luncheon at the Deshler-Cole hotel. A rating of "I" at the district music contest earned them the right to compete on the state level. The choir is shown at left, caroling at the State House during the Christmas season. In addition, the choir participated in the all-city music festival, two concerts at Walnut Ridge, and numerous school functions.

The Walnut Ridge senior high orchestra is a hard-working group which seeks to give the school an appreciation of the beauty of music. The members of the orchestra perform for their own enjoyment as well as for various functions held by the school. The ability of the orchestra was displayed this year at the winter and spring concerts held at Walnut Ridge. Many members have pursued their studies further and have become accomplished soloists. Orchestra has proved to be a valuable stepping stone for those students interested in pursuing a career in music.

Al Laszlo won the Columbus Youth Symphony award for his outstanding performance on the string bass. For this achievement, Al received his own viola.

"Band ATTENTION!" The drum rolls out a cadence, a whistle sounds, one hundred thirty-eight legs step in time down the field, trumpets blare, cymbals crash --the Highlander marching band has begun another performance. This year's marching band concluded one of its most successful seasons by achieving a superior rating in the state music contest. The band set a mood of spirit and good sportsmanship at football games. For the band, work began in mid-August; Practice and patience paid off as the band combined show after show of ear-catching music with precision drills. Walnut Ridge's marching band makes a Walnut Ridge student proud to be called a Scot.

Drill Team

Have you ever done the Elephant Walk? Or the Can-Can? Maybe the swinging beat of Cowboy Joe suits you better. Whatever your tastes may be, the Walnut Ridge Highland Lassies are sure to have a routine to meet with your approval. Drill Team lassies performed an amazing quantity and variety of dances this year, each with the spark of originality that has characterized drill teams in the past. They set an example for the whole school by capturing the Scot spirit of Walnut Ridge and they upheld their high standards wherever they performed.

OFFICERS: Martha Brady, secretary-treasurer; Pat McHale, captain; Connie Chancellor, co-captain.

"Practice makes perfect, they say, but Oh, my aching feet." Drill Team girls brush up on a can-can routine.

TARTAN

A yearbook should be a record of the happenings of one year of school life. It must be filled with pictures and words that awaken memories of bygone days. This year's TARTAN staff has bent its efforts to that end. Our theme "Walnut Ridge Is. . ." has attempted to capture the spirit, the goals, the problems and rewards, and above all the students themselves, the real substance of the school. This yearbook is, then, to each student, a personal memory of Walnut Ridge High School, 1965-66.

Kathy Ramsey and Linda Wessel shout encouragement to the Scots.

Despite a plague of injuries and a lack of experience, the 1965 football squad posted a 2-4 league mark and a 2-7 overall mark.

Thirteen Scots were sidelined by injuries, but squad grit and spirit kept the season from total disaster.

John Cruse and Pat Beveridge were named to the All-City squad.

Coach Webster

Head Coach Ralph Webster and Assistant Coach McKnight watch Scot action while receiving strategy from the press box.

The final Walnut Ridge football game of the 1965 season brought to a close the illustrious coaching career of one of the most respected coaches in Central Ohio, Ralph T. Webster.

Coach Webster, who began his career at Columbus East High School in 1931, first retired from active coaching in 1956. His teams, in a thirty year span, figured in eleven football championships, seven basketball titles, and four wrestling championships, an average of almost one championship per year.

In 1955 Webster was chosen "Coach of the Year" by THE COLUMBUS CITIZEN. Coach Webster has also been enshrined by the National Football Hall of Fame in New Brunswick, New Jersey.

In 1961, Coach Webster was called out of retirement to pilot the first Walnut Ridge football squad. This job, difficult in itself, was made doubly so by the fact that Walnut Ridge was a new school, with no lockers, school colors, mascot, or experience. But drive and determination, longtime trademarks of Webster's coaching, came forward and in 1964, the Walnut Ridge wrestling squad, coached by Webster, took the City League Championship.

1965. . .

The excitement of one night...
The roar of the crowd...
The music, "On The Street Where You Live"...
The eternity of a few seconds...
The tears of joy--and of disappointment...
All of this is one memorable night of traditions that live on.

Ginger Rueckel's smile expresses the mood of the Homecoming Dance after the Scots' victory.

Chris Geer presents Queen Lynne with the traditional white football and long stemmed roses.

Dual miler Jeff Shipman leads the pack to turn in another of his season's fast times.

Sweat, long hours, hard work, and determination added up to a bright future for the 1965 Walnut Ridge Cross-Country team.

Inexperience was the biggest problem affecting the '65 squad.

Although the Scots had no returning lettermen, long hours of hard practice led to a respectable 2-2 record.

Bright spots of the season included the team's 11th place in the district meet and the Scots' perfect score of 15 against Marion Franklin.

The Scots gained valuable experience by the season's failures and victories. Coach Harry McKnight looks forward to a very successful season next year.

Scots Jim Fitzsimmons and Steve Mastenbrook share an early lead to give Walnut Ridge a helpful 1-2 punch in a triangular meet with North and South.

Coach Jack Moore reviews Scot strategy during their first tournament victory over Marysville.

The 1965-66 Walnut Ridge Basketball team started the season slowly, but shifted into high gear at midyear to post a 2-8 league record and a 3-15 overall mark.

A shake-down in the varsity squad at mid-season gave the Scots a "new look," making all teams who played the Scots fight for a victory.

Noteworthy games included the West and Zanesville contests. West's squad was rated fifth in the state when it took the floor against the Scots, but Walnut Ridge led the scoring all the way into the fourth quarter and lost by only 12 points. Zanesville, known to have consistently tough ball clubs, was given a strong run for their money, and won by only 9 points.

Highlight of the season came when the Scots won their first tournament game by downing Marysville at the Coliseum.

Scots were led in scoring by senior center Pat Beveridge and sophomore guard Bill Burget.

Varsity Coach Jack Moore was well pleased with the hustle and mental attitude of the Scots in the last half of the season and feels that his players handled themselves well in many tough situations.

"After the Ball Is Over," someone always has to tidy up, as Diane Foster demonstrates here, in a scene from Homecoming.

Many Walnut Ridge students distinguished themselves and brought glory to the school, in ways too numerous and too varied to tell or picture here.

Symbolizing the many instances of such accomplishment "above and beyond" the simple demands of school citizenship are the five pictured here. Their deeds reflect the attitude and efforts of many others among their schoolmates.

John Knouff receives a document describing the more than two dozen facsimile "freedom documents" that make up the Freedom Shrine award of the Exchange Club of Columbus which John's winning editorial brought to Walnut Ridge in 1966. The Freedom Shrine is displayed in Room 104, which fittingly enough is also the site of the Student Court.

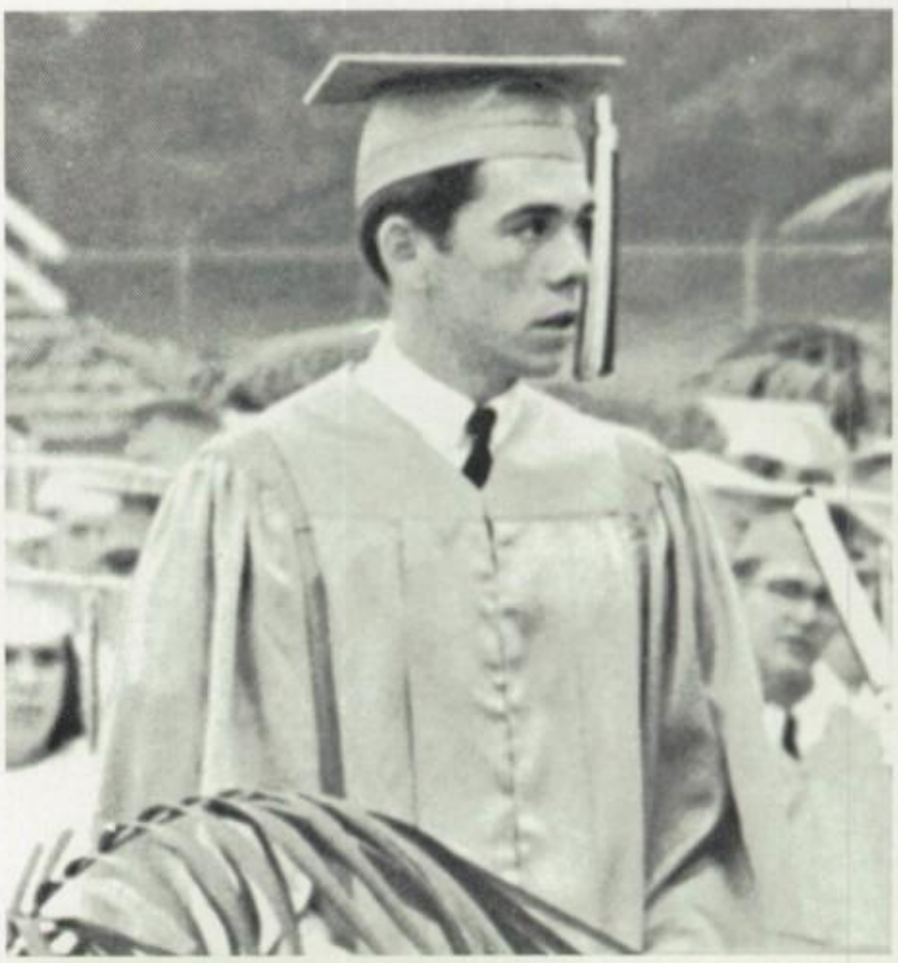
Brains and brawn blend in this scene from the annual Sports Award banquet.

Jim Wallar, Pat Beveridge and John Cruse applaud Becky Carter for her feat in winning girls' 440-yard track honors in a national meet. Jim was winner of the Agonis Club award for combined athletic and scholastic ability; Pat was named to All-City teams in football and basketball, and John also won All-City grid placing.

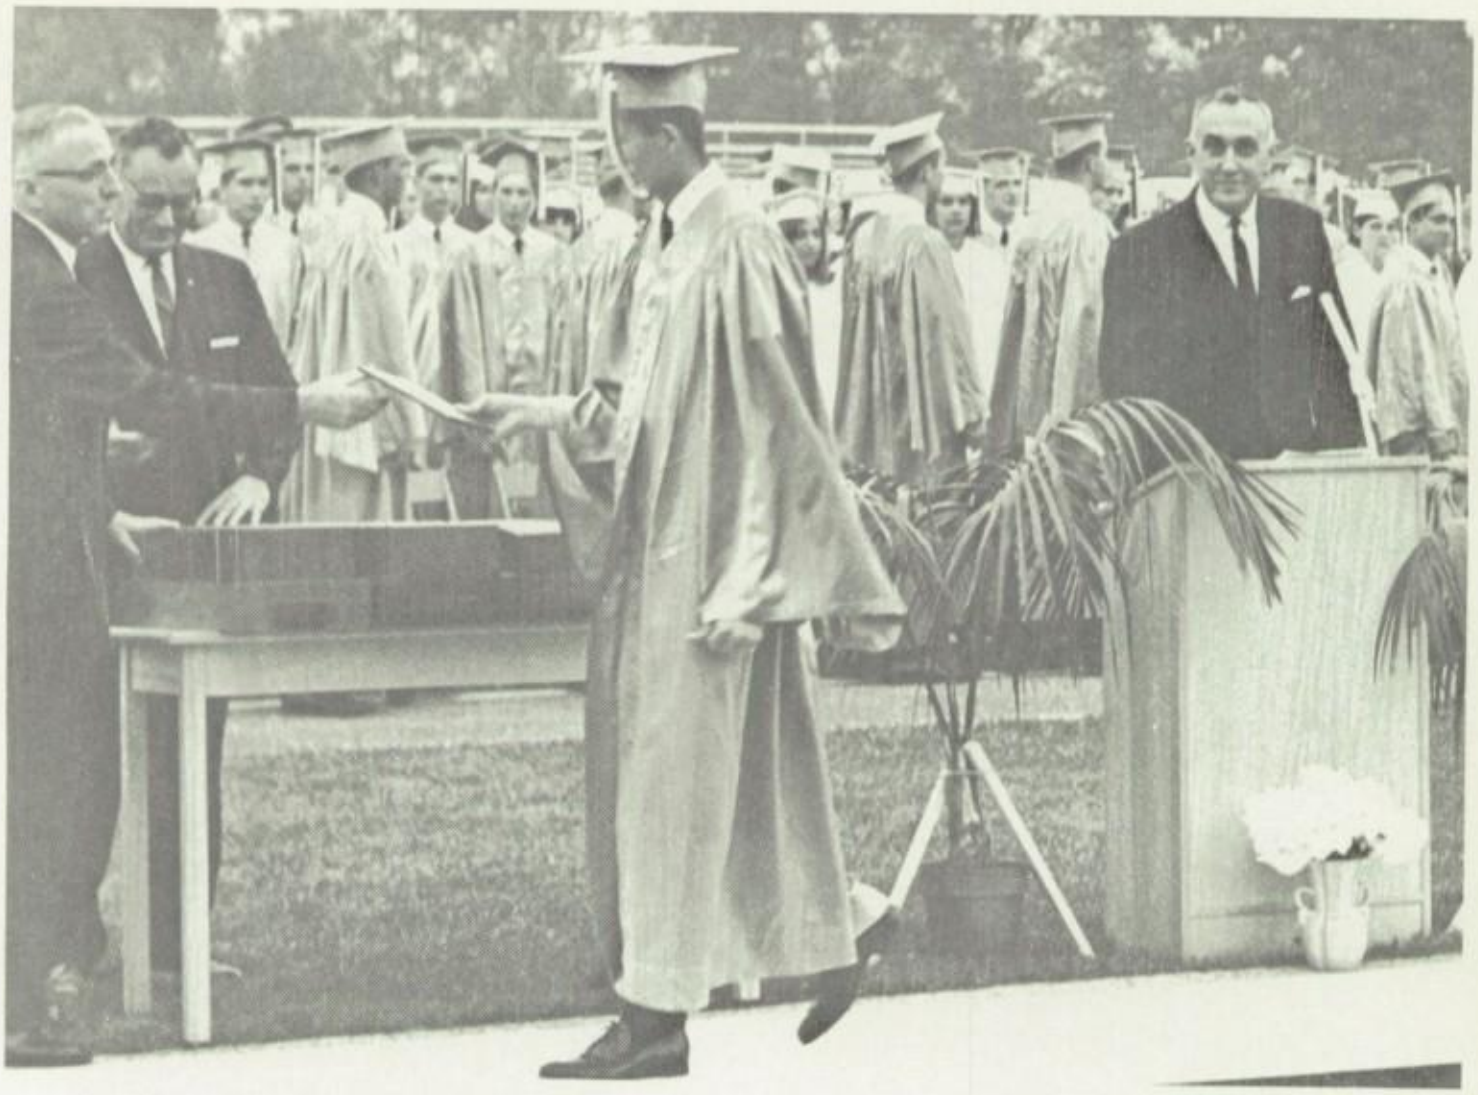
Commencement Highlights

Senior Procession formed at the north end of the stadium under the mother-hen eye of Mrs. Henning. Rick Houchen, Senior Class President, led the march. Ranged behind him are Dan Arledge, Steve Atwood, and Bill Bales.

Speaking for all the girl graduates, in particular, Kathi Vian gave a "Farewell to the Highlands" at graduation rites.

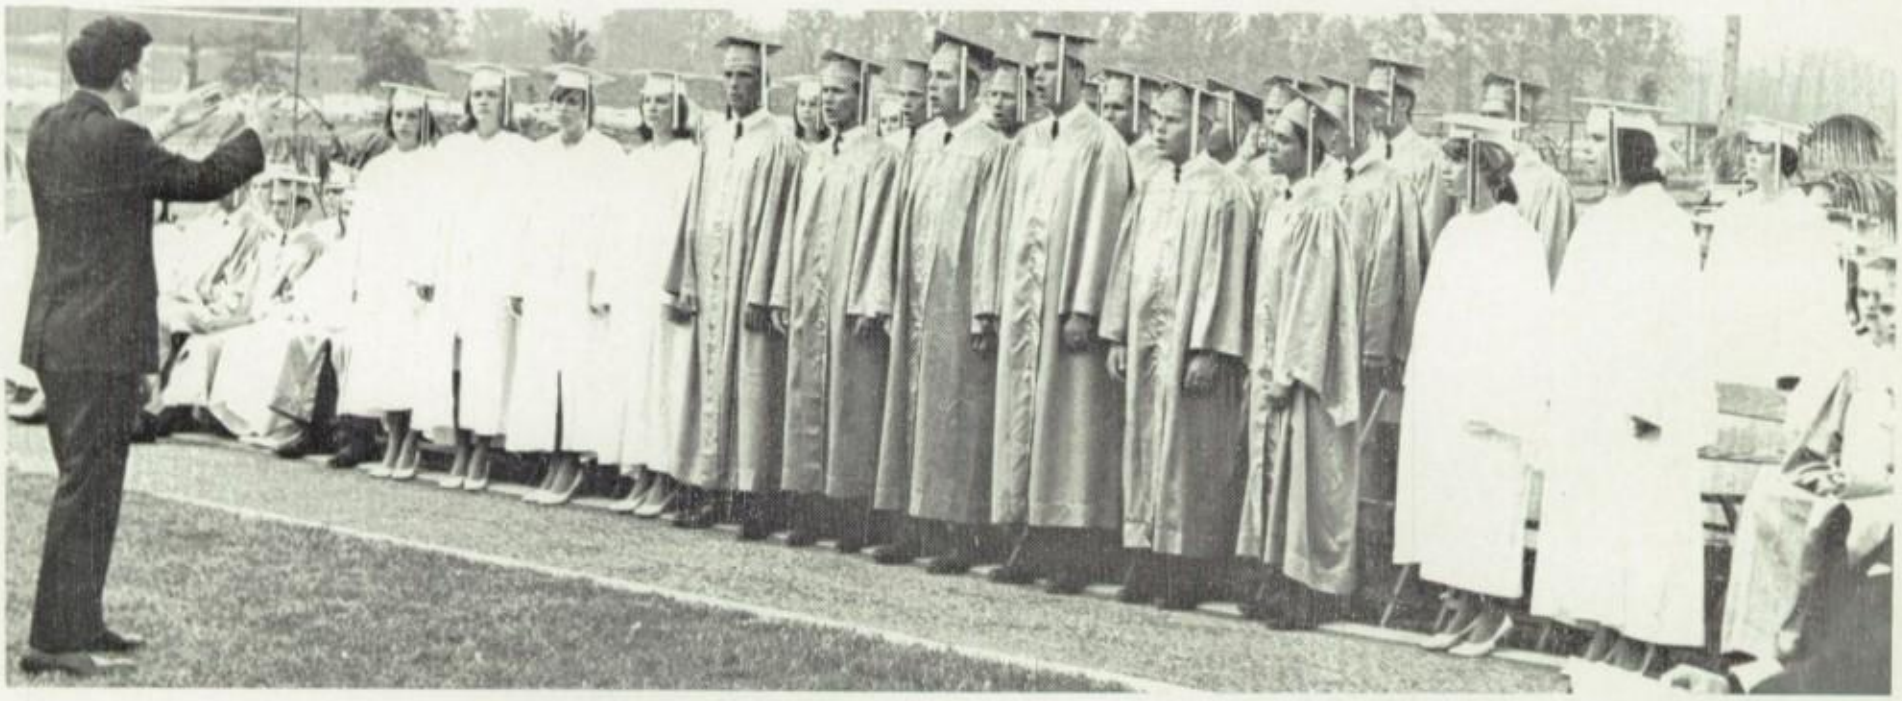


Chosen from a list of B students, as was Kathi, Greg Wohlgamuth spoke on "Now Is the Day."



First diploma of some 190 handed out was awarded to Class President Rick Houchen by Dr. Irvin Young, assistant superintendent of Columbus schools. Assisting him are Walnut Ridge Principal Don E. Thatcher and Vice-Principal William Abele.

Class Of 1966



True to tradition, the Senior Choir tuned up to sing its last number together at the close of the graduation ceremonies. Here the tenor section is caught in full note, under the direction of Mr. Jerry Maxwell.

Senior Class Play — "Skinned Alive"

Entire cast of "Skinned Alive" takes a curtain call after the play's swift action ended.

Wendy Heineman does what she can to make a leading man of Bill Bales.

Carol Swonger receives a deft eyelash touchup from the steady fingers of Linda Zimmerman.

Encke King puts final touches to his make-up after dressing.

Carol Stewart seems amused by what she has found in Shirley Hickman's wild locks.
